D. J. HOSTETTER'S

Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Nausea, Constipation Flatulency, Loss of Appetite or any Billious Complaints arising from a morbid inaction of the Stomach or Bowels, producing Cramps, Dysentery, Colic, Cholera Morbus, &c. &c.

All of these ills yield like magic toits vilifying influence upon the system, and for a person in advanced years, or recovering from sickness of any kind, nothing can be more conducive to their convalescence than the use of these Bitters as per directions on the bottles,

Scarcely four years have elapsed since the first introduction of "Dr. J Hostetter's Celebrated Stomach Bitters" to the public, and such has been the success of this article after its tested efficacy by a discriminating public, that during the last year nearly half a million bottles were sold, with a continuous demand in excess of the supply with all the facilities the proprietors have been able to command in its preparation.

Are you dyspeptic? Then take these Stomach Bitters.

Are you billious? Try one bottle of these Bitters, and be relieved at once.

Are you annoyed by indigestion or constipation? Remove the cause by the free use of these Bitters.

Have you fever and ague? How many thousands in the West and South have been cured of this constitution-destroying disease by the free use of these Bitters!

All should try this great Anidote. We venture to affirm that, when Hostetters's Stomach Bitters are used, a case of Fever and Ague cannot occur: therefore, no family consulting their own interest can afford to do without it.

A WORD TO THE LADIES.

Inrecommending to your use Dr J Hostetter's Celebrated Stomach Bitters, it is but just to state that as a simulant to the system, in imparting strength and vigor, preparatory to period'nal stages, which are of times attended with much pain and trouble, we know of no preperation more happily adapted to all afflictions consequent upon this cause, and for cramps in stomach, cholera morbus, and all ailments arising from over indulgence in fruits, vegetables, ice creams, &c., it is certain and almost instantaneous remedy, and no family should be without it.

One wineglassful taken three times each before meals, or half the quantity if the patients are in a weak condition, and increased in proportion to their strength, will be found a great tonic agent, which all will appreciate when personally satisfied of the facts, as they will be by giving the Bitters one trial.

☞CAUTION.☜

Carefulness should be our study, but more particularly when our health is at stake. Since these Bitters have, from their medicinal qualities, become so popular, there have been a great many concoctions called Stomach Bitters, and often represented to be the same as those as Dr. Hostetter's, palmed upon the public. Be careful of these villainous compounds! Our Bitters are put up in square quart bottles, and covered with the patent medicine stamp, stamped "Hostetter's Stomach Bitters," and Dr J Hostetter blown on the glass. All others are imitation.

POETRY.

Maiden Resolution.

Oh! I'll tell you of a fellow—
Of a fellow I have seen,
Who is neither white nor yellow,
But he's altogether green;
He has told me of a cottage,
Of a cottage 'mong the trees,
And would you think, the fellow
Tumbled down upon his knees!

Then his name isn't charming,
For it is only common "Bill,"
And he wishes me to wed him,
But I hardly think I will;
While the tears the creature wasted
Were enough to turn a mill.
And he begged me to accept him,
But I hardly think I will,

Oh! he whispered of devotion—
Of devotion pure and deep;
But it seemed so very silly,
That I nearly fell asleep!
And he said it would be pleasant,
As we journey down the hill,
To go hand in hand together,
But I hardly think I will.

He was here last night to see me,
And he made so long a stay,
I began to think the blockhead,
Never meant to go away;
At the first I learned to hate him,
And I know I hate him still,
Yet he urges me to have him,
But I hardly think I will

I'm sure I wouldn't choose him.
But the very deuce is in it,
For he says if I refuse him,
That he couldn't live a minute;
Now this is very shocking,
For we're taught we mustn't kill—
So I've thought the matter over,
And I think I'll marry 'Bill."

A CONVERSATION AND WHAT CAME OF IT.

BY CLARA SYDNEY.

"Why, in the name of all that's curious, May Benton, have you never got married?"

This question was asked, by a gentleman of some thirty five or six years of age, who had been for nearly twenty minutes closely watching the motions of a lady who sat near him at a work table.

The gentleman was a fine, noble looking man with frank, well formed features and pleasant expression. He was handsomely dressed, and to judge by the look of his hair, you might have said that he had a wife, and he looked in other respects like a married man—which he did not.

The room in which the two were sitting betokened wealth and taste. Its occupants were evidently in the upper ranks of life.

The lady addressed was a person of fair, interesting face, and graceful form. She certainly did look remarkable well, as she bent her head with its abundant and shining hair, and plied her white hands in the task which employed her sight and apparently her whole thoughts.

Propably a conviction of her attractiveness and worth had caused the question which her companion, put in such a hearty, abrupt tone, that may started and dropped the red worsted work upon which she had been intent.

"What a question, she cried; with a light laugh—just as if I cared about be married!

"Why should you not care May? Surely it is the best and happiest state for a man or woman."

"Granted with a proviso, said May: but Mr. Rossiter, if you think so, why have you never married?"

"You are a true Yankee, May, and answer a question, by asking another; but tell me, now, why you are at thirty years of age, and still single?"

"How dare you say I am thirty years old? Upon my word, if you were brother to my sister in law, I'd not speak to you again for a week."

May pretended to pout; and the pout was quite becoming to her full arched lips.

"Didn't you yourself tell me your age, and only the day before yesterday? Your memory seems very short Miss Benton"

"Well I did't expect you were going to throw it up to me that I was an old maid, to pay for my confidence in you."

"O! May—did I say that?—and if I did you can break my 'glass house' by flinging back my very taunt. But come now, do answer my question."

"I never could get any one to have me, said May shortly. Are you satisfied"

"No. You need not tell me that a person so interesting and attractive as you are has never yet had ardent lovers. I know better May—so tell me truly why you are not Mrs. Somemebody now?"

May suddenly sobered down, and said nervously—It's because no man whose love I could return ever loved me."

And she resumed her work.

How her face had altered! There had come over it a stern, hard impression, as if she were saying, inly.

"It matters not—I can wrestle down these yearnings for something worthy and noble and true, and strong, against which to lean for something winning, tender, and loving, which to love. If there is no heart on earth whose best love is the love I want, I can do without it—I can walk to the end of life as I have walked thus far."

Rossiter regarded her in long silence. He had known her for many years, and had often wondered at her great indifference to the attention of gentlemen. He had even, on more than one occasion, taken her to task for her manner toward them.

"You won't allow them to become acquainted with you at all, said he. When you are introduced to a man that's the last of it. All the young men admire, but they are afraid of you. You chill them to death. I heard one man say that he thought you a beautiful and interesting creature; but then he would as soon undertake to warm into love an iceberg as yourself—even if had courage enough to make the attempt."

A skeptical smile had been the only answer to such questions.

How could May believe that she was capable of inspiring affection in others when those who knew her best were so tightly touched by it.

Rossiter had been for three or four years absent, and had newly returned when the above conversation took place. He was a comfortable old bachelor, happy in disposition; and happy in his sisters home—not to say happy in the companionship of May, whom he honestly believed to be about the best and most lovely and suddenly lost a far charming bride; and never since he had allowed himself to think of loving. And besides he did not know as he wished to marry. He was well satisfied with his "state and condition"—when he was at home. To be sure he did feel uneasy and dissatisfied all the while he was abroad. Nobody's company seemed to fill the void in his heart. He did miss his sister so—and May—O! how glad he was to see them when he returned—and how strange he thought it was that May didn't rush at him in the hall and hug and kiss him just as his sister did; but he took full satisfaction of the contrary creature when she did come to welcome him.

"And so May isn't married yet, he said; well it's rather too bad; but I am glad of it.

May came very near sighing, but she din't—at least not audibly. How many still born sighs there are in the world. It is well it is no crime to smother them at their birth.

Well, Rossiter sat studying that still, stern face before him; and he thought new thoughts—now as to their present relations.

"May, he said, at length—May, was ever there a man that you could have loved as he asked it?"

Like a crimson dye, up rose the hot blood of that bowed head, and the hard look was put on the instant—but she only said, not lifting her head or eyes—

"That, you have no right to ask"

"I have no need to ask, dear May. Forgive me, if I mistake: but I feel as if I had been favored by a revelation of—of—that I had been a blind and stuped fellow as ever lived. May, if a man whom you regarded as you do the plain old fellow before you were to ask for your love what would you say?"

"Yes, said May, dropping her head till her face was hid among the worsted."

"Will you have me? cried Rossiter, springing up and oversetting his chair."

"Yes, said a voice from the worsted deepth. Rossiter was on his knees, and most fervently embracing chair, worsted, and woman."

"Marry me! Will you marry me?" said he.

"Yes," said the voice from amid the worsted.

"Then hold up your head, and let me look upon the face of my wife. St. George May!—I believe I have love you for years."

"And I know I've loved you almost ever since I knew you, said May, yielding to the gentle force which drew her from her low seat and led her to one where there was room for two."

"And that's why you never cared about any other man's company and attention, my May?"

"Yes, said May, you begin to understand it now"

"O May! my beauty, my dear good girl. Why didn't I think of this before? Why didn't you tell me, May?"

"Tell you! I should have looked well, should't I?"

"Indeed, you would have loohed well—looked charming in my eyes. What a pity you had not confidence enough in me to have allowed me to guess at the truth before. Why May, I should have married you years ago, and have been the happiest and most grateful fellow alive. How stuped men can be!—but come May, we must go and tell my sister. She will be delighted, indeed."

And he led the embarrassed and blushing May into the presence of his sister, and admitting her to the great rejoicing; and, in a few weeks from that day, Rossiter and May were no more twain but one flesh. Nobody knows what a month may bring forth—nor to what the simplest question may lead to.

Single and Double Beds in Prussia.—Mr J B Miller, of Utica, United States Consul at Hamburgh, in a letter to the Observer says:

From Bonn, a half hours ride by railroad enabled us to visit Bruhl, a Prussian palace, the grounds about which are very handsome, although the palace itself is, when compared with the English and French, rather plain. The attendant who showed us the palace, pointed out to us a large double bed, wide enough for three or four, which had been made for Victoria and Prince Albert on the occasion of the Queen's visit, some ten years ago, to Prussia. The Prussian style is single beds two in the same room, but Victoria would not submit to be unconverted, and demanded her accustomed accommodations. Another double bed is now shown at Bruhl, which the Prince of Prussia, who has just married Victoria's daughter, ordered for their accomodation at Coblentz—which is about a hour or two by railroad from Bruhl—but which proved too short for his princely accommodation, so that an express train had to be dispatched to Bruhl to bring them the Victoria couch.

Affecting Incident.—We are indebted to Mr L——— recently returned from a traveling voyage, for the following touching narrative:

On the home voyage of one of our New York and Liverpool packets, she being crowded with emigrants, that awful scourge, the ship fever, broke out. The carpenter of the vessel, one of nature's noblemen, and having on board his little son, a lad of some twelve summers, was one of the first victims. His shipmates sadly inclosed his body in his hammock, and having read over him the burial services, and attached to his feet a grindstone, for the purpose of sinking it, committed it to the embrace of old ocean. The poor boy, filled with grief at the loss of his natural protector, sprang overboard, and before he could be rescued he was beyond the reach of human aid.

On the day following the burial, a large shark was noticed in the wake of the ship, and as it was almost calm, the sailors asked permission to catch it, which was readily granted by the captain. Having procured a hook and attached a chain and line and baited it with pork, they cast it overboard, and soon had the excited pleasure of hooking the monster, and with the aid of the windlass, they hauled the writhing mass on board. As it lay on the deck in its death struggles, the sailors heard a singular rumbling noise, that seemed to proceed from within the dying captive Taking a ship ax, they soon cut their way into the now dead fish, and, to their great surprise, found that it had swallowed the carpenter, grindstone and boy, and that the former, who had swooned, had rigged up the grindstone, and, with the assistance of the boy to turn it, was just grinding his jacknife to cut his way out.

Slightly Improving in Honesty.—A few days since the Republican papers all declared that the expenses of the Government for the fiscal year ending the 1st of July, 1858, were $100,000,000. By a dint of persuasion and argument they were at last convinced that it was proper to deduct from this sum the $20,000,000 loan authorized by Congress in June, to meet a deficiency expected to arise in the year ending July 1st 1859, not a dollar of which has been expended in the year which closed the 1st of this month. Deducting this $20,000,000 they now claim and publish taxable to show that $81,000,000 were expended in the last fiscal year. This is nearer right, but it is far from being correct. They still charge in this $81,000,000 to Mr. Buchanan's account of $15,000,000 of debts, which was contracted by the Republican Congress before he was elected, and also some millions of Treasury notes that are now on hand. They must deduct these and then the expenses will be about $60 000,000 which is the average they have been for some years.—Cin Enq

The Secret—Old 'Squire J———, of Addison County, Vt., was famous for bringing to market a better article of cheese than any of his agricultural neighbors, which occasioned a merchant to inquire "how it happened." "I think I can tell you the secret of it" said the 'Squire "You may have noticed that when the milk stands for awhile in the pans, there is a kind of yellow scum that has risen on the top of it. Now some women are so dreadful neat they skim this all off: but my wife ain't so particklar, but stirs it all in together, and really I think the cheese is all the better for it."

☞All the appearances in the vine countries of Europe indicate that the present season will will be an uncommonly favorable one for the wine-makers. The vines in all parts of the Continent seem to be, for the first time in a considerable number of years, free from the odium, and full of good grapes, of which the quality has been made unusually good by the hot weather and the absence of rain. In France, the wine crop promises to be the largest ever seen, and the people are anticipating great things of it. Owing to the long drouth in France it is said that 'wine will be cheaper than water' there.

Hypocrisy.—Francis F. Blair, jr., the Abolition Emancipation candidate of the Republicans of St Louis, who was beaten on the 2d of August by Barrett, (Democrat,) holds half a dozen negroes as slaves, which he works and hires out, as suits his convenience. This Blair is a good specimen of the hypocrisy of Republicanism, which talks philantrophy and practices tyrany and oppression. These fellows grind the poor white man to the duty—taking his strength and sinews for the smallest pittance, while all their tears and groans are reserved for the negro race. Will such men ever learn to blush for their own shortcoming?—Terre Haute Journal.

How to get rid of a Husband—Then have no Illinois on Indiana in France—no state of bliss, where husbands drop off like rotten fruit from the tree that naturally wishes to bud and flower again. In ridding themselves of thier husbands, the French Ladies can have no resource in the laws: their only chance and hope is in their tact. For instance. Madame X——— is a fashionable woman of thirty: a woman of the world, but irreproachable, hitherto, in her conduct; wealthy and wedded, and abundantly worth loving, But, to her highest happiness, (of which she hopes to have the harvest hereafter,) her husband is, take him all in all, a promiscuous obstacle. Not long since, Madame X———, commenced the commission of a very extraordinary little improprieties. She first went to the theatre in the evening, all alone. After the play she came out, without an attendant; and though it was midnight, drove to one of the most public resturants of the Boulevard. With her vail down she stepped up to the counter and inquired whether there was any set of young men, just then at supper!

Surprised at such a question from a lady of so very distinguished and madest an exterior, the proprietor replied in the affirmative—pointing to a door leading to a private saloon, where a dozen "fast boys," were just seated around the table for a midnight carouse. Madame opened the door and walked in; lifted her vail, and smiled, a most charming "good evening," to the astonish ing youths, requesting the liberty to make one of their number.

The request was at once acceded to, of course and the fair stranger seated herself between two young men, both very bland and amiable. The rivalry for her attention, between all the gentlemen at the table, was exceedingly lively. She ate her supper very heartily and honestly, conversed very gayly, and finally, at two in the morning, she called to the waiter, paid her share of the supper and retired

With all her liveliness and grace, the mysterious lady's behavior had been so positively unexceptionable and ladylike, that no one had ventored upon upon any familiarity

The explanation of this riddle is, that Madame X———is getting up "appearances," which should provoke her husband to a quarrel and a separation—to end by future aggravation in a divorce! She is not quite thirty years of age, beautiful in figure and features, and has been irreproachable hitherto in her character and conduct. But her husband is wholly unworthy of her, and their life together is a misery. By singing his pride, by arousing his suspicions she trusts to provoke him to seek a legal separation!

Alas! for the obstacles to her wishes. It is the link of gold that binds them! She has the melancholy misfortune of being so rich, in her own right, that he cannot afford to be offended with her! With her spell his pride will slumber and she probably, will fail in her enterprise.

A Love Tragedy in India—A family in Belgravia (says the Court Circular) has lately plunged into great grief from melancholy and most singular circumstances. When Sir Colin Campbell left England many brave and manly hearts accompanied him, among whom was the eldest son of a reverend prelate high in the church. This young gentleman left a lady behind him to whom he was passionately attached and had promised to marry. Her fortune being small, the clerical dignitary threatened to disinherit his son if he did, and to alienate his affections from the party in question, he was sent to India. His father charged him at his departure never to think of her more if he wished to be remembered by him. The lover got safe to his destination, but his heart beat with undiminished affection. He could not avoid communicating his constancy, and wrote to his beloved assuring her that no threats or anger of his unfeeling parent should ever banish the tender recollection of their reciprocal passion. Having occasion at the same time to his father for additional supplies, he demanded them on the ground that he renounced his mistress forever. By a most unfortunate accident the two came to England misdirected—the one intended for the parent falling into the hands of the lady, and that intended for the lady into those of the parent. The latter on receipt of his epistle, sent back such an indignat answer as fully awakened the son to the consequences of the fatal mistake he had made in the direction of the letters. Fully alive to the finest sensibilities, and not able to combat a feeling of shame for the unintentional error he had committed, shot himself.

Collapse of the Anti-Slavery Agitation.—The defeat of Blair for Congress, in Missouri, indicates a remarkable collapse in the anti slavery agitation. It is but the beginning of the end. Kansas is done for: and the same wholesome, conservative, general reaction which culminated in the election of 1852, is now beginning to work against the nigger agitators. The Seward Republican party are in shoal water, and the chances now are, that before December next they will be hard aground. The defeat of Blair, in St Louis, shows that Kansas shreaking has ceased to pay expenses. That St Louis election is one of the most significant and important manifestations of a new political organization.—New York Herald.

Read what follows, parents—ponder it well, and do not be caught in the same snare:

You have a little boy—he may be four years old—you think there is no time to be lost, and you send him to school. There he is confined for hours, and compelled to sit upon a hard bench and look upon a book. He hears the voices of children playing without—he half rises to look from the window—a rap upon the teacher's desk recalls him to his seat upon the bench—a glance shows him the kite, sailing in the air, to the delight of its happy little proprietor; the poor child is almost involuntarily upon his feet again, another rap, and he again drops into his seat upon the bench. Day after day, week after week, month after month, the little fellow returns to his prison, and sits upon his bench.

At length he becomes pale and languid, loses his appetite, grows restless at night, has a cough, and loses his flesh and spirits. Ought he not to be taken from the bench? The consequence of this would be terrible—he would lose his rank in that school; So he continues to sit upon the bench. After a few weeks more be is brought home. He had fainted as he sat upon the bench! Matters begin to wear a serious aspect. The doctor is called—pronounces him very ill. A great pity he had been compelled to sit upon the bench It is all over with the poor child. Ere long he dies A sad calamity? But, thank God, there is one precious consolation—before he died he had learned his A B C's.

An old lady residing not far from Exeter was perhaps one of the most brilliant examples of conjugal tenderness that the last century produced. Her husband had long been dying, and at length, on the clergymen of the parish making one of his daily visits, he found him dead The disconsolate widow, in giving him an account of her spouse's last moments told him her "poor dear man kept groaning and groaning but he could not die; at last," said she, "I recollected I had got a piece of new tape in the drawer, so I took some of that and tied it as tight as I could around his neck, and then I stopped his nose with my thumb and finger, and poor dear! he went off like a lamb!"

Feet Washing—A Western Baptist paper has received an article advocating the duty of washing feet as an ordinance of the Church. The editor says that he considers it a subject of minor importance and does not wish to enter into a controversy on it. But as to the washing of the saints' feet, he says, "if they need washing, they certainly ought to be washed."

☞"Massa says you must sarten pay de bill to day," says a negro to a New Orleans shopkeeper "Why, he isn't afraid I'm going to run away, is he?" "Not exactly dat, but look a'e," said the darkey, mysteriously, "he's gwine to run away hisself, and dat's wants to make a big raise!"

The Democratic Party is Neither a Pro-Slavery nor an Anti-Slavery Party.

The Democratic party needs no defence against the attempts of speculators in philanthrophy to characterize it as a pro slavery party, except to point to its creed as adopted by its representative bodies, and its principles as embodied in its leading measures, which assume the form of party issues. As a national party it has NO creed on the subject of slavery, except that its existence shall be left entirely to the action of the people of each State and Territory. It is neither for nor against slavery. It might just as truly be called an anti slavery as a pro slavery party. It is neither, in its national organization and relations. It insists

SATURDAY, AUGUST 21, 1858.

Speeches.—Col McClure, and W A Peelle, candidates for Secretary of State, addressed our citizens last Saturday evening. Mr Peelle opened the discussion. His speech was a mere rehash of the trash we have been afflicted with for the past three years about bleeding Kansas and Lecompton frauds. He dwelt long and labored hard on this subject, but we could not discover anything new, or that had not already been much better said, on the question. He denounced the democratic leaders as corrupt, and charged the administration with extravagance, but failed to bring forward any proof or make any specifications of the extravagance which he alleged the democrats had been guilty of. On the whole, it was about as poor an effort as we have ever listened to.

Col McClure's reply was a masterly vindication of the democratic policy in regard to Kansas, and the rights of the inhabitants of territories to manage their own affairs in their own way, without congressional or other outside interference. The charges of his antagonist were boldly met, and triumphantly refuted. The outcry about extravagance was shown to be unfounded, and moreover if true, the republicans were answerable for them, as all the appropriations were sustained by that party, and many of the items would be found to meet deficiencies in the expenditures made by the previous Congress when the opposition were in the majority. It was throughout an excellent speech, and we regret our limits prevent our doing more ample justice to it.

The Great Event of the Age!—The submarine telegraph, uniting Europe and the American continent is at length completed, and congratulatory messages have been sent over it from Queen Victoria to President Buchanan, and from the President to the Queen. The particulars will be found in another column. This is a wonderful achievement of science, and truly the great event of the nineteenth century. The effect it will have on the commercial, diplomatic and social intercourse between Great Britain and America is almost beyond conception; and should it be found to work without interruption and fulfil the expectations of its sanguine friends it will indeed be a most glorious and valuable institution.

The great event has been most enthusiastically celebrated in New York, Boston, Philadelphia, Chicago, and in short throughout the entire country. Firing of cannon, illuminations, bonfires, speeches, processions &c &c. have been the order of the day, and the most exuberant joy has been manifested throughout the length and breadth of the land, at the happy consummation of this stupendous project.

Wisconsin Money.—On Wednesday morning a dispatch reached here that the Chicago Banks refused to receive the notes of some 25 of the Wisconsin Banks. This caused quite an excitement, as a large amount of Wisconsin money is in circulation here; the report was these banks had failed, and as a necessary consequence all Wisconsin money was immediately refused, and it was looked upon as doubtful if not worthless. The panic appears to have been groundless, and the whole affair turns out to have been an ingenious piece of rascality on the part of Chicago shavers to plunder the holders of that kind of currency, and buy it up at a heavy discount. The notes of all the Wisconsin banks are amply secured by good state stocks, and are doubtless as good as any other paper currency.

These periodical plunderings of the public, through paper money and panics, naturally beget distrust in our present banking system, and are strong arguments in favor of the democratic hard money doctrine That is the only safe currency, and the one which can never fail or depreciate in value.

We copy a couple of paragraphs from the Chicago Press &Tribune, of Tuesday which show how the panic was got up, and how little grounds there were for it.

There was some little fluster in the street yesterday in consequence of the throwing out by our leading bankers of a large number of Wisconsin banks.

* * * * * * *

Most, if not all of the leading railroads, agreed this morning to take the bills of these banks in their ordinary business. Holders should remember that these banks are not broken. They are secured by State stocks, and are good for nearly, if not quite, the face of them. Let no one sacrifice upon them for the present If the leading banks will not take them, the brokers will soon fix a price on them, and when they do we shall at once advise our readers of the terms fixed. We learn that dispatches were received in the city yesterday from Madison, stating that arrangements were making by most of the banks to redeem in that city, and if they are perfected, their bills will be par at once. We are quite sure at the worst that the bills will not depreciate below five or ten per cent.

Wisconsin Money.—The money brokers who took advantage yesterday of the public alarm, caused by throwing out the notes of certain Wisconsin banks, by half a dozen bankers of the city, reaped quite a harvest. Many of the bills were sold as low as eighty cents, while large amounts were exchanged for gold at eighty-five to ninety. This is all unnecessary and foolish; and many of those who have submitted this unmerciful shave will regret their haste before the week is over The proscribed notes, though not as good as coin, are well secured by interest paying State stocks, and will in other respects compare favorably with much of the Illinois currency in good credit. Without doubt it is all bad enough; but in times like these it is folly to make bad worse by groundless and absurd alarm.

P. S. Since the above was written we learn that there may be grounds for suspecting the solvency of some of the Wisconsin banks. They are said to be mere wild cats, located in inaccessible places, having no capital, and secured only by worthless railroad securities, instead of state stocks. If this be so, their notes are not of much value A movement is on foot on the part of the sound banks to have all notes redeemed at Madison or Milwaukee All the Wisconsin banks which come into this arrangement may be looked upon as sound—those which do not, it would be as well to avoid. A few days will probably decide the matter, and separate the sheep from the goats.

The Burnt District.—The notorious Dave Kilgore has been renominated for Congress by the republicans of the 5th district. He is rather an old representative of the staid, old shadbelly quaker portion of his constituents, and his nomination is anything but satisfactory to the friends of Julian, Morton, Holloway, and other aspirants for Congressional honors. There will be fun in the burnt district before the election is over.

HON. TOM CORWIN. was nominated on Monday last, by the Republican Convention of the 7th Congressional District in Ohio, as their candidate for Congress. Tom is a good stumper and an able man, and will be hard to beat. In his speeches he does not endorse the views of the more ultra of his Republican brethren.

Huntington and Whitley District Convention.—The democratic district convention for Huntington and Whitley counties was held at Springfield on Saturday last. James R Slack Esq. of Huntington was nominated for the Senate, and J B Firestone for Representative. Both are good democrats, deservedly popular with their fellow citizens, and we have strong hopes will be elected. The district it is true, is rather close, but if the democrats do their duty faithfully and bring out their full strength to the polls, victory will perch on their banners.

The Atlantic Telegraph.
Grand Celebration at Ft. Wayne!

Last night, according to arrangements made by our Common Council, a grand celebration and jubilee, in honor of the success of the Atlantic telegraph, was had in our city. A salute of one hundred guns was fired; all the church bells were rung; flags and streamers were stretched across the streets; most of the stores were illuminated: bonfires threw out their ruddy gleams in every direction; and the whole city seemed wrapped in a blaze of light. The two fire companies and a large mass of citizens formed a magnificent torch light procession, and promenaded our principal streets, accompanied by martial music and two brass bands; after which the immense concourse assembled in the public square, where, after a fervent and appropriate prayer by Rev Mr Lowrie, speeches were made by H McCulloch R E Fleming Revs Lowrie and Curtis, W S Smith, and others. A general feeling of gladness and enthusiasm seemed to pervade all classes, and the entire celebration was admirably conducted throughout. It was by far the best and most spirited demonstration ever got up in our city, and will long be remembered by our citizens in connection with the great event it was intended to commemorate

☞ The number of children within the limits of this city, between the ages of 5 and 20 years, in the enumeration for school purposes, is 2398; viz. 1135 males, and 1263 females. This is an increase of nearly two hundred over last year's enumeration.

Specie in New York.—There is now in the banks and the sub-treasury in New York, $44,037,289 in specie. At the same time last year the amount was $23,683,453. Increase $20,353,836.

DEAD—MR. SAMPSON DOUGLASS, who had his leg cut off by a mowing machine on the farm of Mr. McCormick, in Aboite township, about two weeks ago, died on Saturday last.

Toledo, Wabash, & Western Railroad.—The Toledo Blade says:—

"No road in the country is doing a more prosperous business at this time than the Toledo, Wabash & Western. The freight business upon it has been steadily on the increase since it was opened, and there is every reason to believe that the most sanguine expectations of its projectors will be fully realized. The earnings of the first week in August are $19,565 42, which is a large increase over the business of last year.

We are assured that within a few weeks past the passenger business has doubled."

A SWINDLE.—The State Sentinel cautions the public against receiving notes purporting to be issued by the Western Exchange Bank at Indianapolis, G. S Hamer, Cashier. The is no such bank authorized by law, and the whole affair is a swindle.

GEN. JO LANE, of Oregon, was at Indianapolis on Wednesday, and was honored with a public welcome.

Scientific American.—Two numbers more will complete the present volume of this truly valuable and widely appreciated scientific journal. The new volume will commence on the 11th September. Every mechanic and scientific man who does not already take the Scientific American, should send in his name and commence with the new volume—the money could not be better invested; and those who do take it, must renew their subscriptions. Terms only $2,00 per annum. A club of 10 will be furnished for $15,00—only $1,50 per annum each. This is certainly cheap enough, when the intrinsic value and high character of this paper are taken into consideration. Who will get up a club?

The Van Wert Constitutionalist has been enlarged and furnished with an entire new dress. It is now one of the best looking, as it has long been one of the best country papers in the Buckeye State. It is thoroughly democratic, and by its faithful and earnest support of the principles of its party, has richly earned, and we hope receives, a warm and liberal support from the sterling democracy of Van Wert.

Piano Forte Tuning and Repairing.

Mr. J B. BAKER, of Louisville, Ky., comes to us highly recommended by Professors Morse, of Louisville, and Heitz, formerly of this city, as a tuner and repairer of Piano Fortes. We would advise those who wish their Pianos put in first-rate order to give him a call. He will remain but a few days. Orders left at the store of Mr. J. A. Colerick, corner of Clinton and Columbia Sts. will meet with prompt attention. His charges are very moderate.

Stage Line to Wolf Lake and Wawaka.—We direct attention to the advertisement of M Glynn's line of U S mail stages for the above points. Persons travelling in that direction will find this a very safe, comfortable and cheap mode of conveyance Mr G also keeps an extensive livery stable, and is prepared to furnish horses and carriages to any part of the Union on the shortest notice and most favorable terms.

A Gentle Denial.—The Chicago Times publishes what it calls an extract from an official letter by I. Cook, postmaster of that fast city, in which he recommends administration democrats to vote for republicans in preference to Douglas-men! The Chicago Herald denies the charge and gently pitches into the Times as follows:

The Times Forgery.—The Times of yesterday morning contained an extract, purporting to be taken from a letter written by Mr Cook to some person unknown, urging the National Democrats to support the Republican ticket whenever they were not strong enough to run one of their own. The charge originated with the Quincy Herald, edited by one of the most unprincipled scoundrels that ever disgraced the public press. It has already in the columns of this payer, been denounced as a pure unadulterated forgery the perpetrator of which is as morally criminal and felonious as though it had been a forged receipt or draft. The editor of the Times knew it to be a forgery at the time he published it, and was guilty of a cowardly, contemptible falsehood, when he asserted its authenticity. When Mr Sheahan states that he can produce the original letter written by Mr Cook, containing the language of that extract, he simply and plainly lies—lies in his teeth—lies in his heart—lies from the sole of his foot to the crown of his head—and we so deliberately brand him, editorially and individually. We defy Mr Sheahan to produce such a letter, or one in the slightest degree resembling it. Produce the letter, Mr Sheahan, or submit to be publicly posted as a brazen, unprincipled vagabond.

☞ At the regular quarterly meeting of the Directors of the State Bank of Indiana, held at Indianapolis on Wednesday, the following dividends were declared. The branches of Fort Wayne, Terre Haute, Vincennes, Indianapolis, and Evansville, 10 per cent.; Lawrenceburg and South Bend, 20 per cent; Madison 5 per cent. It is now demonstrated that the State of Indiana will realize about two million of dollars clear profit through its connection wit this bank and the Sinking Fund.

The Atlantic Telegraph.

Messages of Queen Victoria and President Buchanan

NEW YORK, August 15.

The following message from Mr DeStanty, one of the assistant electricians of the Atlantic Telegraph Company, has been received:

TO THE DIRECTORS OF THE ATLANTIC TELEGRAPH.
TRINITY BAY, August 14.

The cause of not transmitting and receiving intelligence through the cable, is, that the instruments require a great deal of care and adjusting. I am doing this as fast as possible. You should not look upon the cable as an ordinary, short telegraph line that can be worked through directly. The cable has been successfully laid, and telegraphic signals have passed through it at pleasure, but we have encountered many little difficulties which require time, and which only many experiments can entirely overcome. I see no reason to doubt that we shall be able, within a few days, to surmount all difficulties. I will send the earliest intimation of the probable time that the Queen's message may be expected.

Signed, DESTANTY.

In addition to the above a private dispatch has been received from a reliable gentleman at St John's, who is in a position to obtain the earliest and most correct unofficial intelligence concerning the operations, in which he says that communications from the office at Valentia Bay have been received, but from some unexplained cause it has been impossible to send that or any other intelligence to the operators at Valentia. This state of things often occur upon land lines; offices can receive correctly from a different operator and yet be unable to send a word, and the difficulty is, sooner or later, found to be in the battery, its connections, or in the instruments; and there is no reason to doubt that the present difficulty in working the cable, as soon as the electricians can compare notes, will be entirely overcome.

NEW YORK, August 16.

Information has been received that the cable is all right at both ends, and that the Queen's Message will probably be received this evening.

Immediately on the announcement of the Queen's Message being received over the Atlantic cable, the bells of Old Trinity Church struck up a merry peal. The public buildings were decorated with flags and salutes were fired, according to previous arrangements

The greatest enthusiasm everywhere prevails at the joyful intelligence of the telegraphic union of Europe and America.

The Queen's Message.

VALENTIA BAY, VIA TRINITY BAY.

To the Honorable the President of the U. S.—Her Majesty desires to congratulate the President upon the successful completion of the great International work, in which the Queen has taken the deepest interest. The Queen is convinced that the President will join her in fervent hoping that the Electric Cable which now connects Great Britian with the United States, will prove an additional link between the nations whose friendship is founded upon their common interest and reciprocal esteem. The Queen has much pleasure in thus communicating to the President and renewing to him her wishes for the prosperity of the United States.

The President's Reply.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 16.

To Her Majesty Victoria, Queen of Great Britain and Ireland.—The President cordially reciprocates the congratulations of Her Majesty the Queen, on the success of the great international enterprise, accomplished by the science, skill, and indomnitable energy of the two countries. It is a triumph more glorious because far more useful to mankind than was ever won by a conqueror on the field of battle. May the Atlantic Cable, under the blessing of Heaven, prove to be a bond of perpetual peace and friendship between the kindred nations, and an instrument destined by Divine Providence to diffuse religion, civilization liberty and law through out the world.

In this view will not all nations of Christendom spontaneously unite in the declaration that it shall be forever neutral, and that its communications shall be held sacred in the passage to their places of destination, even in the midst of hostilities, Signed, JAS BUCHANAN.

CYRUS STATION, N. F., August 16. 1858.

To the Directors of the Atlantic Telegraph Company, New York.—Europe and America are united by Telegraph—Glory to God in the Highest, on Earth Peace, Good will towards men.

DIRECTORS OF ATLANTIC TELEGRAPH COMPANY, GREAT BITAINR.

WASHINGTON, Aug 16.

The intelligence of the reception of the Queen's message rapidly spread throughout the city, and this evidence of the successful working of the telegraph cable, occasioned much rejoicing. In some quarters, however, its authenticity was doubted, until a dispatch from the General Agent of the Associated Press removed all doubt The first intimation on the subject to the President was communicated through Senator Bigler from information obtained from Washington from the Associated Press agency, when the President returned to the city from the "Soldier's Home," and received at the White House the message from Her Majesty Queen Victoria. He then prepared a suitable reply. The Queen's Message was received by the President with some doubts as to its authenticity, but the matter was relieved of all doubts by the following message, from the Superintendent of the Newfoundland line.

TRINITY BAY, Aug. 16th.—The message to the President, purporting to be from the Queen actually came over the Atlantic Cable from Valencia.

NEW YORK, Aug. 17.

A salute of 100 guns will be fired to day; this evening every public building will be illuminated and numerous bonfires will be lighted in various parts of the city, and many private building will bh illuminated. Should the Niagara arrive salutes will be fired in honor of her. The grand celebration depends upon the day to be fixed by the authorities of London and throughout the world.

The following message was sent to day by Mayor Tieman to the Lord Mayor of London; I congratulate your Lordship on the successful laying of the Atlantic Cable, uniting the Continents of Europe and America, and the cities of Loudon and New York—the work of Great Britain and the United States—the triumph of science and energy everspace, thus uniting more closely the bonds of peace and commercial prosperity introducing an era into the world's history pregnant with results beyond the conception of finite man. To God be all the praises.

Signed, D. F TIEMANN,
Mayor of N. Y. City.

NEW YORK, Aug. 18.

The Atlantic Cable.—Mr. Field states that he has not least doubt of the cable being an entire success. By the Niagara off the bar, outward bound, he wrote to the directors of the Atlantic Telegraph Company of Great Britain recommending them to prepare another cable at once as it was evident that the present one which in a short time may transmit messages as rapidly as an air line will not be sufficient for business Until the first of September, the line will be closed to all messages excepting those form the Governments of Great Britain and the United States

NEW YORK, Aug 19.

The joint committee on the Cable celebration had a meeting to day and fixed upon the 1st of September for a grand celebration. It was also decided to send a dispatch to the Lord Mayor and Common Council of London informing them of the fact. The British born people of this city intend to have a special celebration of the event and a meeting was held to day to take the initiative in the matter.

The Terminus of the Atlantic Cable and Surrounding Scenery—All who have visited Trinity Bay, Newfoundland, with one consent allow it to be one of the most beautiful sheets of water they ever set eyes upon. Its color is very peculiar—an inexpressible mingling of the pure blue ocean with the deep evergreen woodlands, and the serene blue sky. Its extreme length is about eighty miles, its breadth about thirty miles, opening boldly into the Atlantic on the northern side of the island. At its southwestern shore it branches into the Bay of Bull's Arm, which is a quiet, safe and beautiful harbor about two miles in breadth, and nine or ten in length, running in a direction north west The depth of water is sufficient for the largest vessels. The tide rises seven or eight feet, and the bay terminates in a beautiful sand beach. The shore is clothed with dark green fir trees, which, mixed with birch and mountain ash, present a pleasing contrast.

Tenth District.—At the Congressional Convention for this district, held on Friday last the 13th inst., at Kendallville, Hon REUBEN J. DAWSON was, by acclamation, nominated as the Democratic candidate for Congress, Judge DAWSON is a gentleman of decided ability, of great energy of character, accurately informed upon the political issues of the day, and sound in his political faith. At the election two years ago, Brenton beat Lowry by 710 majority. While this is a large majority to overcome, we believe that Judge DAWSON, by a vigorous canvass, can accomplish it There was never a better state of feeling among the Democracy of the Tenth District than now, and a strong disposition is manifested by the Democrats who left us two years ago upon the Kansas issue, to return to their old party associations as their wisest and best policy—one by which they can do the most for the welfare of their country and the prosperity of its institutions. We confidently expect the Democracy of the Tenth will elect Judge DAWSON, who will prove a worthy champion of their cause and an able representative of their principles, which they can it they will but put forth the necessary effort.—State Sentinel

Parliament was prorogued by commission on the 2nd. Her Majesty's message says the session has been productive of many important measures. Her Majesty looks with confidence to the preservation of general peace, and trusts that the labors of the Paris Conference may lead to a satisfactory solution of the questions referred to them. She alluded to the gallantry and devotedness of the troops in India and hopes that those efforts have already so far been crowned with success that the revolt may be speedily suppressed. She has given willing to consent to the bills transferring the government of India to her direct authority, and hopes by a just and impartial administration of the law to secure its advantages to her race and creed. The Queen thanks the commissioners for the judicious liberality with which they have provided for the exigencies in the public service The rest of the message is devoted to local matters. Parliament was then prorogued until Oct. 19th.

The Queen's message is attacked by the Times in severe terms, which expresses unaffected thankfulness that Her Majesty's lips had not been insulted with its utterance.

Arrival of the Steamship Arabia.

ST JOHN'S, August 16.

The Royal mail steamship Europa bound for Liverpool, came in collision, on Saturday evening, with the Royal mail steamship Arabia, from Liverpool, bound to New York. The Arabia mistook the Europa's light for the Cape Race lights.

The Europa arrived here to day, having lost her cut water and stem, and otherwise damaged. She will repair here.

The Arabia lay by the Europa for some time then proceeded on. She was not much damaged.

The dispatches of the Associated Press were not put on board the Europa, but only a few Liverpool papers: hence the following imperfect dispatch

The advices by the Arabia are to the 7th inst., one week later

Governor Cumming in Utah—Colonel Kane—Major Bridger, the old mountaineer for whom the fort was named which was destroyed by the Mormons last fall, reached Kansas City on the 7th inst., directly from General Johnston's camp in Utah. He is reported by the Kansas Journal as saying:

The feeling toward Governor Cumming is not very favorable, and it is thought he is influenced in his actions by Brigham Young, endeavoring to operate upon the Mormons through him, thus placing himself in the power of that unscrupulous old scoundrel.

Colonel Kane, of whom so much has been said and written, is a Mormon, baptized at Kanesville, wearing the endowment robe, and sent out with the blessing of the prophet upon his head, to work for the interests of the Church. None of the Gentiles in the Valley have confidence in him whatever. Brigham Young, in a speech the Sunday before Bridger left, expressed great love for the United States, denied having ever done anything except burning the trains last season, and promising to restore the cattle. This is about all the Government will ever receive.

He is not the first, or the third, who has charged Governor Cumming with being under the influence of Brigham—and by this time, we have no doubt, the Government at Washington has been legitimately advised of the facts in the case. We have good reason for making this declaration.

BALTIMORE, August 16.

The New York railroad companies, persisting in their ruinous reduction of rates to Cincinnati, and the regions more legitimately connected with Baltimore, the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company has recently made a decided retaliatory stroke by reducing the rates of freight between New York, Cleveland, Chicago and the lake country, to thirty cents per hundred pounds less than by the Erie and New York Central roads, for first and second class goods. With the present immense equipment and good condition of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, aided by its connections, this additional trade can readily be accommodated.

The new President of the Pittsburgh Fort Wayne & Chicago Railway Company.—We noticed last week the appointment of Mr. Edgar Thompson, to this important post, in place of Mr. G W Cass, resigned. Mr. Cass tendered his resignation, to take effect on the 1st of Aug. It was accepted to take effect so soon as Mr. T. was prepared to assume his new duties, which will be during August, probably. Mr. Thompson will soon be at the head of the longest railway line in operation. The Pennsylvania Rail way, of which he it now President, and the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne, and Chicago Railway, of which he is President elect, together constitute 818 miles of Railway, extending on the most direct practicable route from Philadelphia to Chicago. And have together cost near $45.000,000. The Tribune pays a well deserved compliment to Mr. Thompson's services in railway construcure and management of the great line of which he is now at the head It says: While the organization and financial affairs of the two companies will, with the exception of the Presidency, be as heretofore distinct, the inducement for the selection of Mr. Thompson as head of both roads were ample, as well in his own high character and experience as a railroad manager, as in the fact that the Pennsylvania Railway Company, is the largest stockholder and bondholder in the Pitts. Fort Wayne and Chicago Road, and as its naturally, is most deeply interested in its success. Mr. Thompson entered into the service of the Pennsylvania Co. as its Chief Engineer, on the organization of the engineer Department of that road in 1847, having previously established a high reputation as Chief Engineer and Superintendent of the Georgia Road. The Pennsylvania Railroad was located and constructed under his supervision. The character of the work to be done called for the highest order of engineering ability. In February, 1852, Mr. Thompson, was elected President of the Pennsylvania Company, and has since administered its affairs with eminent success In thorough, practical knowledge of railroad affairs in every department, the fruit of long experience and in administrative ability, he has few equals among Railroad men in this country, and upon few men could so great a burden as he is about to assume rest with more certainty that it will be borne with honor to himself and satisfaction to the public and to the owners of the properties concerned. The work of construction of the unfinished part of the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne and Chicago Road west of Plymouth, is in rapid progress, and the grading and track laying so far advanced as to insure the opening of the road to Chicago by the 1st of November next. At the same time that the line is open from Chicago to Pittsburgh, it will also, by arrangement with the Cleveland, Columbus, and Cincinnati Railroad Company, be opened as a through line, without change of cars, from Chicago to Cleveland, via Cresline, over a uniform gauge, of which 278 miles are part of the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne and Chicago Road and 75 miles part of the Cleveland, Columbus and Cincinnati Road. When the revival of enterprise shall again set the streams of commerce in motion, the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne and Chicago Road will be in condition to do its share of the traffic due to its position. —Railway Times.

☞ The earnings of the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne & Chicago Rail Road Company for the month of July were $107,949 65, showing a decrease as compared with same month of last year of $11,606 53 being a decrease of 7 3-10 per cent. The expenditures for the same time were $75,862 65, showing a decrease of $32 974 97 from July 1857, or 30 1-3 per cent, and showing an increase on the nett earnings of $21 368 44.

Grand Rapids and Indiana Railway.—At the Annual meeting of the Stockholders of this Company, held at the office of the company in Sturgis, Michigan, July 19th, the following persons were elected Directors:

James Scribner, and Leonard Covell, Grand Rapids, Mich; G D Rice and I Kellogg, Kalamazoo, Mich; P Marantette, Mendon, Mich; P H Back, J G Wait, W Henry, and J Lomax, Sturgis, Mich; F F Jewett, Lima, Ind; W S Boyd, J P Jones, and J L Doty, Lagrange, Ind

On the 20th the new Board met and reelected all the old officers, to wit: Jos Lomax, Pres: W Allman, Secretary; R Reed, Tres: J D Cook, Chief Engineer.

The Grand Rapids Eagle states, that Mr J Scribner, one of the directors has taken the contract to clear, grub, grade, oulvert, bridge, lay the ties, and in all respects make and complete the road bed ready for the iron, twenty miles north of that city, on on before the 15th day of October next year. For his work he is to collect and receive subscriptions, as far as they may go—the company agreeing to pay him the balance from time to time, as the work progresses; and also claiming the right to pay laborers, in case of the neglect of the contractor to do so, and charge the amount so paid as payment on the contract Similar contracts have been made with Messrs. Van Lew & Whitney, for the fifteen miles south of Kelloggsville; the work to be prosecuted forthwith, and completed in six months.

☞ We cannot refrain from calling the attention of our readers to the advertisement in this day's paper of the "Hair Restorative" of Prof O. J Wood & Co., of St Louis. It will be seen that he has numerous certificates from persons of the highest character, to the merits of his Restorative From positive knowledge we are able to say that it is in every sense what it professes to be, and we do not hesitate to pronounce it the finest preparation for the head and hair which has so far been devised by human ingenuity. We have seen it arrest threatened baldness and restore to the head its original profusion of natural and glossy hair, and when the latter has been prematurely tinged with gray, we have seen it like magic restore the colors of youth and health. The distinguished proprietor of this, we might say, miraculous "Restorative," is that it gives to the person who uses it the same head of hair that they wore in youth, thus acting in strict compliance with the rules of the first and greatest of all hair-makers—Nature. No one who has used it will hesitate to unite with us in this testimony to its peculiar merit.—[Cov. [La.] People's Friend.

Mexican Mustang Liniment.

Its wonderful effects and consequent popularity—perhaps no article in the history of the Materia Medica ever acquired the same patronage, was subjected to the same number of severe and different tests, and met with so few failures as the Mustang Liniment. It has been justly styled the Panacea for all external Wounds, Cuts, Swellings, Sprains, Bruises, or Eruptions on man or beast. It is so far a medicine of surprising virtue that Physicians are compelled to prescribe it; and from some remarkable cures of Chronic and Distorted Rheumatic cases it has naturally attracted much attention from the first scientific minds of the age. THE GREATEST MEDICAL DISCOVERY Of the Age.

Mr. KENNEDY, of Roxbury, has discovered in one of our common Pasture Weeds, a remedy that cures

Every Kind of Humor,

FROM

The worst Scrofula down to a common Pimple

He has tried it in over eleven hundred cases and never failed except in two cases (both thunder humors). He has now in his possession over one hundred certificates of its value, all within twenty miles of Boston. TWO bottles are warranted to cure a nursing sore mouth.

One to three bottles will cure the worst kind of pimples on the face.

Two or three bottles will clear the system of biles.

Two bottles are warranted to cure the worst canker in the mouth or stomach.

Three or five bottles are warranted to cure the most desperate case of rheumatism.

Three to four bottles are warranted to cure salt rheum.

Five to eight bottles will cure the worst case of scrofula.

One tablespoonful per day will prevent chills and fever.

A benefit is always experienced from the first bottle, and a perfect cure is warranted when the above quantity is taken.

ROXBURY, MASS.

DEAR MADAM,—The reputation of the Medical Discovery in curing all kinds of humors, is so well established by the unanimous voice of all who have ever used it, that I need not say anything on the subject, as the most skilful physicians and the most careful Druggists in the country are unanimous in its praise.

In presenting the Medical Discovery to your notice I do it with a full knowledge of its curative powers, in relieving all, and curing most of those diseases to which you are unfortunately so liable. That most excruciating disease to an affectionate mother, is cured as if by a miracle; your own temper is restored to its natural sweetness, and your babe from short and fretful naps to calm and sweet slumbers; and the Medical Discovery becomes a fountain of blessing to your husband and household.

NURSING SORE MOUTH,

In the more advanced stages of

it extends to the stomach, causing

DYSPEPSIA,

which is nothing but canker on the stomach; then to the intestines and creating a sinking, gone feeling, and an indifference even to the cares of your family.

Your stomach is

RAW AND INFLAMED,

your food distresses you, and you can only take certain kinds, and even of that your system does not get half the nourishment it contains as the acrimonious fluid of the canker eats it up; then your complexion loses its bloom and becomes blue or greenish, and your best day is gone. For want of nourishment your system becomes loose and flabby, and the floors of your body become relaxed. Then follow a train of diseases which the Medical Discovery is particularly

ADAPTED TO CURE;

Palpitation of the heart, pain in the side, weakness of the spine and small of the back, pain of the hip joint when you rise, irregularity of the bowels, and also, that most excruciating of diseases, the

PILES.

How many thousands of poor women are suffering from this disease and pining away a miserable life, and their next door neighbor does not know the cause. I wish to impress on your mind that good old proverb "An ounce of prevention is better than a pound of cure." In the

you have both the preventative and the cure, with this great and good quality, that it will never, under any circumstances, do you any injury.

No change of diet ever necessary—eat the best you can get and enough of it.

DIRECTIONS FOR USE. Adults, one table spoonful per day; Children over ten years, dessert spoonful; Children from five to eight years, tea spoonful. As no directions can be applicable to all constitutions, take sufficient to operate on the bowels twice a day.

Coroner's Inquest.

AN inquest was held by me, on the 5th day of August, 1858, on the body of an unknown man, supposed to be Joseph Stoker, found in the St. Mary's River, near the old toll bridge, in Wayne Township.

The jury, after being duly qualified, found that he was a man of about 45 or 50 years of age, about 5 feet 7 or 8 inches high, auburn hair, dressed in striped cassimere pantaloons, shoes cut from old boots, and black cloth vest, wallet in the pocket, containing four cents—one three cent piece and one cent copper; also some fishing tackle and a pocket knife with one blade, one side of the handle gone; black neck handkerchief, and one old red pocket handkerchief.

"A Casket of Gems of Wit and Wisdom"

A THOUSAND AND ONE STORIES,

OF FACT AND FANCY, WIT AND HUMOR, RHYME, REASON, & ROMANCE.

EDITED by S. G. GOODRICH,—[Peter Parley.]

One volume, large octavo, handsomely bound in red morocco, with gilt side and back; containing 750 pages, and Illustrated with 300 beautiful engravings.

The design of this book is to bring whole libraries into a single volume—to furnish a mental meal for every day and every hour—for every taste, humor, age, caprice—a book for the grave and the gay, the old and the young; we have, therefore, Science and Philosophy, Rhyme and Reason, Wit and Wisdom, Fact and Fancy, which, put together as they come, produce a sort of intellectual plum pudding, in as much as the whole is peppered and spiced with puns, conundrums and drolleries, to say nothing of a garnish of three hundred engravings.

In these pages are given the essence of thought and sentiment from Goethe, Sydney Smith, Sam Johnson and many others; clerical anecdotes Hibernian eccentricities, Western extravagances, gathered from the four winds of the Press; outlines of the tales of Don Quixote and Gil Blas, of the fables of Flavian and Lafontaine; of the epic poems of Jerusalem Delivered, Telmachus, Orland Furioso, and others; of the Life and Sayings of Mrs Partington and the Widow Bedott; of the Bunby Papers and the Green Mountain Girls; of the Life of Sam Houston, Gerard the Lion killer, Cummings the elephant destroyer and Livingston the giraffe-chaser; of Alexander Dumas, the Swiss Family Robinson, Mr Gliddon and Sam Patch; with spicy citations of prose and poetry, from the master spirits of the day—Longfellow, Bryant, Bayard Taylor, D Kane, Commodore Perry, etc. It furnishes also a fund of information for the serious—the Natural History of the Bible, which is a subject of exhaustless interest; striking facts in Astronomy, Chemistry and Natural History; remarkable Escapes, Incredible Travels, and Wonderful Discoveries in Art and Science.

Peter Parley, the editor of this book, has a world wide reputation, as an author—his writings having become familiar as household words wherever the English language is spoken. THIS IS HIS LAST WORK and we predict for it a popularity equal if not superior, to that acquired by any of his former publications.

☞ This work will be SOLD EXCLUSIVELY BY SUBSCRIPTION, at the low price of $3 50.—Agents wanted in all parts of the country to obtain subscribers for it.

Specimen copies will be sent by mail, prepaid, to any address, upon receipt of the price. For full particulars address DERBY & JACKSON Pubs.

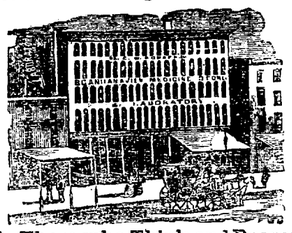
DR. ROBACK'S BLOOD PURIFIER AND BLOOD PILLS,

THE GREAT

Scandinavian Vegetable Remedies



To Those who Think and Reason.

The intelligent in this country are always ready to test the merits of a prominent discovery or invention, and if satisfied of its excellence, to adopt, approve, and recommend it. It is to this thinking reasoning class, who always look before they leap, and whose honest and rational judgment gives tone to public opinion that DR ROBACK'S BLOOD PURIFIER AND PILLS owe their immense success. When this

GREAT AMBASSADOR OF HEALTH

First announced that his Scandinavian Remedies were infallible in Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Nervous Diseases, Sexual Weakness, Scrofula, Premature old age, Fever and Ague, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Fits, Hemorrhoids or Piles, Weak Stomach, Colic, Diarrhea, etc, he stated the manner in which they operated. Their actual effects were compared by sagacious men, with the distinguished Physician's statements, and it was found that every stage of the progress of cure was precisely as he had described it. The result was that the mind of the country became interested, and that persons of the highest standing in every city and town in the Union, patronized the preparations, and admitted the claims of the Scandinavian Swede, to be the First Medical Discoverer of the age.

THE BLOOD PURIFIER AND PILLS are now universally recommended by well informed and candid persons, as an immediate cure for

AUTOGRAPH LETTERS.

Of distinguished men in every profession, warmly recommending the preparations may be seen at Dr Roback's Office.

In the SCANDINAVIAN VEGETABLE BLOOD PILLS are united the three great medicinal properties which Physicians have hitherto tried in vain to combine in one preparation. They relieve the bowels, purify the blood, and invigorate the constitution at one and the same time. To this is to all who try them will subscribe. The absence of minerals, and of every stupifying drug, renders them harmless, even to the most delicate female, or the weakest child. No one can doubt their superiority after one single trial—they are not only better, but, in fact, cheaper than any other Pills; for it takes a less number of them to produce a better effect.

Price of the Scandinavian Blood Purifier, 81 per bottle, or $5 per half dozen; Scandinavian Blood Pills, 25 cents per box, or five for $1.

☞ Read Dr Roback's Special Notices and Certificates, published in a newspaper part of this paper from time to time. Dr Roback's Medical Almanac and Family adviser containing a great amount of interesting and valuable Medical information can be had gratis of any of his agents throughout the country.

CARLISLE, Warren Co., O., March 8, 1858

DR C. W. ROBACK—Dear Sir; For the benefit of suffering humanity, permit me to say that I have found your Scandinavian Blood Purifier and Blood Pills a sure cure for Indigestion and Liver Complaint. I have suffered from them for several months and have tried a great many physicians but all to no purpose. I was advised by a friend to try your Blood Purifier and Pills and did so. I was living in Cincinnati at the time, and I went to your office and purchased one bottle of the Purifier and one box of Pills to commence with, and bless the day I found your valuable medicines, for I am enjoying good health at present, and feel confident that the cure is permanent. Let others buy and take what they please, as for me, give me the Blood Purifier and Pills for all chronic diseases which arise from impure blood or derangement of the digestive organs. I take no other medicines, and have not for the last eighteen months.

Most truly, T. V. DUBOIS.

A Righteous Decision.—The English lords of the bench decided, at Westminister, about a month ago, that it was a principle of common law that a counsellor, in questioning a witness, should address him in ordinary tones and in language of respect, such as is employed by one gentleman in conversation with another; that such lawyer has no right to question the private business or moral character of a witness any further than it is apparent they absolutely affect his reliability or touch the case in hand; and that a witness is not bound to answer questions put to him in an insulting or bull-dog manner. If forced to answer by the court, he will have his remedy in an action of damages.—Exchange.

'Brother Moon,
Will you raise a tune?'

The deacon lifted up his voice, but, instead of singing at once, he inquired:

'Brother Jeeter,
What's the meter?'

This being satisfactorily answered, Deacon Moon pitched the tune.

I heard a "scrimmage" lately between one of our most popular railroad conductors and a very fast lady; something about fare or change. The conductor wore a long, roomy, white linen sack coat, with a standing collar, and buttoned up to the chin. The lady won the victory most gloriously by the following brilliant and awful destructive charge. "You are a purty fellow, ain't you? You are the fust conductor I ever seed agwine about among a passel ove decent wimmen folks in his shuttail! Ain't you 'shamed ove yerself." We think he was, for he left that car quickly and unbuttoned the shirt tail coat.

A young lady that lives near a railroad crossing appears to have no occupation except perpetually poking her head out of the window. A wag, the other morning, hailed her from the street. Halloo, Miss!" "What do you want?" said she, after the first flush of indignation at being thus accosted. "The bell ain't rung yet," was the answer. "What do you mean?" asked Miss. "Why," was the reply, "that sign says you're to 'lookout' when the bell rings, but you're looking out all the time." The young lady's head disappeared with a jerk, and the window went down with a slam.

The following marriage is announced in the papers: "Thomas Buler Chinn, Esq., of the Close Litchfield, to Eliza Tippett, daughter of the late secretary of the navy." A wag, who is always on the alert, wrote the following couplet upon this union:

"Although the sun is sultry yet,
The cold will soon set in;
And Thomas does quite right to get
A Tippet for his Chinn."

A Dutchman being called upon for a toast, said: "Here's to the horses who fit, pleed and died at the battle of Bunker Hill, of whom I am one." Drank standing.

Take a company of boys chasing butterflies; put long tailed coats on the boys, and turn the butterflies into guineas, and you have a beautiful panorama of the world.

The woman who undertook to scour the woods has abandoned the job, owing to the high price of soap. The last that was heard of her she was skimming the seas.

The old lady who believes every calamity that happens to herself a trial, and every one that happens to her friends a judgment, is not yet dead.

Somebody has written a book on the art of making people happy without money. We are in excellent condition to be experimented upon.

"Won't that boa-constrictor bite me?" said a boy to a showman. "Oh, no, boy, he never bites. He swallows his victims whole!"

The Woburn Budget thinks there has been considerable swine pulling" lately between England and the United States.

A thrifty horsewife thinks men ought to be useful—they might as well be smoking hams as smoking cigars.

A man in New Orleans is so upright in all his dealings that he won't sit down to eat his meals.

The Governor General of Canada gets $31,000 per annum—$6,000 more than the President of the United States

The happiest man in the world is the one with just wealth enough to keep him in spirits, and just children enough to make him industrious.

Difficult to Turn.—Kirwan says that a pious Scotchman used to pray: "O Lord, keep me right: for thou knowest if I go wrong, it is very hard to turn me."

A North Carolina editor acknowledging the receipt of a bottle of brandy, forty-three years old, says: 'This brandy is so very old that we very much fear that it cannot live much longer.

What one of the planets is supposed to have the most specie?

The moon; because she is continually changing quarters.

Grapes.—The Cincinnati Gazette says that the grape crop in the region of that city this season may be designated as almost an entire failure. Some few vineyards will have something of a crop, but, in the aggregate, all the wine produced will not pay the expenses of attending to the crop.

What light could not possibly be seen in a dark room?—An Israe*lite*.

The young lady up town who 'burst into tears' the other day, has been put together again, and is now wearing hoops to prevent a recurrence of the accident.

Over what earthly and heavenly thing does a rainy day exercise the same influence? The sun and your boots; for it takes the shine out of them both.

"Whose pigs are those, my lad?" "Whoy, they belong to that big sow." "No! I mean who is their master?" "Whoy, that little 'un there; he's a rare 'un to fight."

All men have their frailties. Whoever looks for a friend without imperfections will never find what he seeks; we love ourselves with all our faults, and we ought to love our friends in like manner.

Columbus, Kentucky, is a hard place—An old farmer, who had been badly swindled there, said of it: "If the Angel Gabriel happened to light at Columbus, there'll be no resurrection, for they'll swindle him out of his trumpet before he can make a single toot.

Great Women for a new Country.—The wife of a countryman in the Moscow District, Russia, has given birth to sixty nine children at twenty seven confinements—four times four at one birth, seven times three, and sixteen times twins.

A writer on lightning urges the necessity of closing the windows of a house after the outside has become wet in a shower. The outside is then a good conductor and the dry air of the interior a non-conductor, and the chances are small that the electricity will enter the house.

A tipsy loafer mistook a globe lamp with letters on it for the queen of night, and exclaimed:

"Well, I'm cussed if somebody hain't stuck an advertisement on the moon."

The Republicans are striving with the effort of a drowning man, to get up some kind of an issue; as yet they have been unable to fix upon any particular rope to pull. We advise near-sighted men to keep on the lookout.

'Where was I, ma" said a little urchin one day to his mother, as he stood gazing on his drunken and prostrate pa, "where was I when you married pa? It could have picked out a great deal better man than he is."

"Blessed is he," says the Book of Mormon, "who blowsth his own horn; for whoso bloweth not his own horn, the same shall not be blowed" Likewise. "Whoso blowed his own horn, the same shall be blowed with a vengeance."

B. RANDALL,

PROPRIETOR OF

I. M. SINGER'S

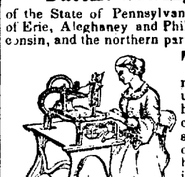
of the State of Pennsylvania (except the counties of Erie, Alleghaney and Philadelphia) State of Wisconsin, and the northern part of Indiana.



THE world wide reputation of these machines renders puffing unnecessary. All who have used Singer's Machines testify to their superior merits over all others. Over 12 000 have been sold and are now in active operation, and not one has proved a failure! By simply changing the needle and thread the same machine will execute perfectly every variety of work, coarse or fine, on cloth or leather. From $200 to $500 a year can be cleared by any individual using this machine more than can be executed by hand.

Singer has also brought out a new highly ornamented, which for beauty and expedition far surpasses all other Family Machines. These machines use two threads, forming a lock stitch is the centre of the goods sewed, and making a perfect back stitch on both sides of the cloth, which makes a seam much stronger and harder to rip than hand sewing, and does not use more than two thirds as much thread as the chain stitch machine.

These machines are for sale by the undersigned at his office on North Fifth Street, opposite Good's Hotel, Reading Pennsylvania.

Also by T. E. EVANS ON, Traveling Agent in Indiana. Silk Needles, Oil, and Thread for sale by T. E. EVANS ON,

Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Nausea, Constipation Flatulency, Loss of Appetite or any Bilious Complaints arising from a morbid inaction of the Stomach or Bowels producing Cramps Dysentery, Colic, Cholera Morbus, &c. &c.

All of these ills yield like magic to its vilifying influence upon the system, and for a person in advanced years, or recovering from sickness of any kind, nothing can be more conducive to their convalescence than the use of these Bitters as per directions on the bottles,

Scarcely four years have elapsed since the first introduction of "Dr. J Hostetter's Celebrated Stomach Bitters" to the public, and such has been the success of this article after its tested efficacy by a discriminating public, that during the last year nearly half a million bottles were sold, with a continuous demand in excess of the supply with all the facilities the proprietors have been able to command in its preparation.

Are you dyspeptic? Then take these Stomach Bitters.

Are you billious? Try one bottle of these Bitters, and be relieved at once

Are you annoyed by indigestion or constipation? Remove the cause by the free use of these Bitters

Have you fever and ague? How many thousands in the West and South have been cured of this constitution-destroying disease by the free use of these Bitters!

All should try this great Anidote We venture to affirm that, when Hostetter's Stomach Bitters are used, a case of Fever and Ague cannot occur: therefore, no family consulting their own interest can afford to do without it.

A WORD TO THE LADIES.

In recommending to your use Dr J Hostetter's Celebrated Stomach Bitters, it is but just to state that as a simulant to the system in imparting strength and vigor, preparatory to periodical stages, which are of times attended with much pain and trouble, we know of no preparation more happily adapted to all afflictions consequent upon this cause, and for cramps in stomach, cholera morbus, and all ailments arising from over indulgence in fruits, vegetables, ice creams, &c, it is certain and almost instantaneous remedy, and no family should be without it

One wineglassful taken three times each before meals, at half the quantity i the patients are in a weak condition, and increased in proportion to their strength, will be found a great tonic agent, which all will appreciate when personally assisted of the facts, as they will be by giving the Bitters one trial

Carelulness should be our study, but more particularly when the health is at stake Since these Bitters have, from their medical qualities, become so popular there has been a great many concoctions called Stomach Bitters and often represented to be the same or some as Dr Hostetter's, palmed upon the public Beware of those villainous compounds! Our Bitters are put up in square quart bottles, and covered with the patent metallic cap stamped "Hostetter's Stomach Bitters," and Dr J Hostetter blown on the glass. All others are imitation.

Maiden Resolution.

Oh! I'll tell you of a fellow—
Of a fellow I have seen,
Who is neither white nor yellow,
But he's altogether green;
He has told me of a cottage,
Of a cottage 'mong the trees,
And would I von think, the fellow
Tumbled down upon his knees!

Then his name isn't charming,
For it is only common "Bill,"
And he wishes me to wed him,
But I hardly think I will;
While the tears the creature wasted
Were enough to turn a mill.
And he begged me to accept him,
But I hardly think I will,

Oh! he whispered of devotion—
Of devotion pure and deep;
But it seemed so very silly,
That I nearly fell asleep!
And he said it would be pleasant,
As we journey down the hill,
To go hand in hand together,
But I hardly think I will.

He was here last night to see me,
And he made so long a stay,
I began to think the blockhead,
Never meant to go away;
At the first I learned to hate him,
And I know I hate him still,
Yet he urges me to have him,
But I hardly think I will

I'm sure I wouldn't choose him.
But the very deuce is in it,
For he says if I refuse him,
That he couldn't live a minute;
Now this is very shocking,
For we're taught we mustn't kill—
So I've thought the matter over,
And I think I'll marry 'Bill"

A CONVERSATION AND WHAT CAME OF IT.

BY CLARA SYDNEY.

"Why, in the name of all that's curious, May Benton, have you never got married?"

This question was asked, by a gentleman of some thirty five or six years of age, who had been for nearly twenty minutes closely watching the motions of a lady who sat near him at a work table.

The gentleman was a fine, noble looking man with frank, well formed features and pleasant expression. He was handsomely dressed, and to judge by the look of his hair, you might have said that he had a wife, and he looked in other respects like a married man—which he did not.

The room in which the two were sitting betokened wealth and taste its occupants were evidently in the upper ranks of life.

The lady addressed was a person of fair, interesting face, and graceful form. She certainly did look remarkable well as she bent her head with its abundant and shining hair, and plied her white hands in the task which employed her white hands in the task which employed her sight and apparently her whole thoughts

Probably a conviction of her attractiveness and worth had caused the question which her companion, put in such a hearty, abrupt tone, that may started and dropped the red worsted work upon which she had been intent.

"What a question, she cried; with a light laugh—just as if I cared about be married!

"Why should you not care May? Surely it is the best and happiest state for a man or woman?"

"Granted with a proviso, said May; but Mr. Rossiter, if you think so, why have you never married?"

"You are a true Yankee, May, and answer a question, by asking another; but tell me, now, why you are at thirty years of age, and still single?"

"How dare you say I am thirty years old? Upon my word, if you were brother to my sister in law, I'd not speak to you again for a week."

May pretended to pout; and the pout was quite becoming to her full arched lips.

"Didn't you yourself tell me your age, and only the day before yesterday? Your memory seems very short Miss Benton"

"Well I did't expect you were going to throw it up to me that I was an old maid, to pay for my confidence in you."

"O! May—did I say that?—and if I did you can break my glass horse by flinging back my very taunt. But come now, do answer my question."

"I never could get any one to have me, said May shortly. Are you satisfied"

"No You need not tell me that a person so interesting and attractive as you are has never yet had ardent lovers. I know better May—so tell me truly why you are not Mrs. Somemebody now?"

May suddenly sobered down, and said nervously—It's because no man whose love I could return ever loved me"

And she resumed her work.

How her face had altered! There had come over it a stern, hard impression, as if she were saying, inly.

"It matters not—I can wrestle down these yearnings for something worthy and noble and true, and strong, against which to lean for something winning, tender, and loving, which to love. If there is no heart on earth whose best love is the love I want, I can do without it—I can walk to the end of life as I have walked thus far."

Rossiter regarded her in long silence He had known her for many years, and had often wondered at her great indifference to the attention of gentlemen. He had even, on more than one occasion, taken her to task for her manner toward them.

"You won't allow them to become acquainted with you at all; said he. When you are introduced to a man that's the last of it All the young men admire, but they are afraid of you You chill them to death. I heard one man say that he thought you a beautiful and interesting creature; but then he would as soon undertake to warm into love an iceberg as yourself—even if had courage enough to make the attempt."

A skeptical smile had been the only answer to such questions.

How could May believe that she was capable of inspiring affection in others when those who knew her best were so tightly touched by it

Rossiter had been for three or four years absent, and had newly returned when the above conversation took place. He was a comfortable old bachelor, happy in disposition; and happy in his sisters home—not to say happy in the companionship of May, whom he honestly believed to be about the best and most lovely and suddenly lost a far charming bride; and never since he had allowed himself to think of loving. And besides he did not know as he wished to marry. He was well satisfied with his state and condition"—when he was at home To be sure he did feel uneasy and dissatisfied all the while he was abroad Nobody's company seemed to fill the void in his heart. He did miss his sister so—and May—O! how glad he was to see them when he returned—and how strange he thought it was that May didn't rush at him in the hall and hug and kiss him just as his sister did; but he took full satisfaction of the contrary creature when she did come to welcome him.

"And so May isn't married yet, he said; well it's rather too bad; but I am glad of it.

May came very near sighing, but she didn't—at least not audibly. How many still born sighs there are in the world. It is well it is no crime to smother them at their birth.

Well, Rossiter sat studying that still, stern face before him; and he thought new thoughts—now as to their present relations.

"May, he said, at length—May, was ever there a man that you could have loved as he asked it?"

Like a crimson dye, up rose the hot blood of that bowed head and the hard look was put on the instant—but she only said, not lifting her head or eyes—

"That, you have no right to ask"

"I have no need to ask, dear May. Forgive me, if I mistake but I feel as if I had been favored by a revelation of—of—that I had been a blind and stuped fellow as ever lived May, if a man whom you regarded as you do the plain old fellow before you were to ask for your love what would you say?"

"Yes, said May, dropping her head till her face was hid among the worsted."

"Will you have me? cried Rossiter, springing up and oversetting his chair."

"Yes, said a voice from the worsted deepth. Rossiter was on his knees, and most fervently embracing chair, worsted, and woman"

"Marry me! Will you marry me?" said he.

"Yes," said the voice from amid the worsted.

"Then hold up your head, and let me look upon the face of my wife. St. George May!—I believe I have love you for years."

"And I know I've loved you almost ever since I knew you, said May, yielding to the gentle force which drew her from her low seat and led her to one where there was room for two."

"And that's why you never cared about any other man's company and attention, my May?"

"Yes, said May, you begin to understand it now"

"O May! my beauty, my dear good girl. Why didn't I think of this before? Why didn't you tell me, May?"

"Tell you! I should have looked well, should't I?"

"Indeed, you would have looked well—looked charming in my eyes. What a pity you had not confidence enough in me to have allowed me to guess at the truth before. Why May, I should have married you years ago, and have been the happiest and most grateful fellow alive. How stuped men can be!—but come May, we must go and tell my sister. She will be delighted, indeed."

And he led the embarrassed and blushing May into the presence of his sister, and admitting her to the great rejoicing; and, in a few weeks from that day, Rossiter and May were no more twain but one flesh. Nobody knows what a month may bring forth—nor to what the simplest question may lead to

Single and Double Beds in Prussia.—Mr J B Miller, of Utica, United States Consul at Hamburgh, in a letter to the Observer says:

From Bonn, a half hours ride by railroad enabled me to visit Bruhl, a Prussian palace, the grounds about which are very handsome, although the palace itself is, when compared with the English and French, rather plain. The attendant who showed us the palace, pointed out to us a large double bed, wide enough for three or four, which had been made for Victoria and Prince Albert on the occasion of the Queen's visit, some ten years ago, to Prussia. The Prussian style is single beds two in the same room, but Victoria would not submit to be unconverted, and demanded her accustomed accommodations. Another double bed is now shown at Bruhl, which the Prince of Prussia, who has just married Victoria's daughter, ordered for their accomodation at Cologne—which is an hour or two by railroad from Bruhl—but which proved too short for his princely accommodation, so that an express train had to be dispatched to Bruhl to bring them the Victoria couch.

Affecting Incident.—We are indebted to Mr L——, recently returned from a wailing voyage, for the following touching narrative

On the home voyage of one of our New York and Liverpool packets, she being crowded with emigrants, that awful scourge the ship fever, broke out. The carpenter of the vessel, one of nature's noblemen, and having on board his little son, a lad of some twelve summers, was one of the first victims. His shipmates sadly inclosed his body in his hammock, and having read over him the burial services, and attached to his feet a grindstone, for the purpose of sinking it, committed it to the embrace of old ocean The poor boy, filled with grief at the loss of his natural protector, sprang overboard, and before he could be rescued he was beyond the reach of human aid.

On the day following the burial, a large shark was noticed in the wake of the ship, and as it was almost calm, the sailors asked permission to catch it, which was readily granted by the captain. Having procured a hook and attached a chain and line and baited it with pork, they cast it overboard, and soon had the excited pleasure of hooking the monster, and with the aid of the windlass, they hauled the writhing mass on board. As it lay on the deck in its death struggles, the sailors heard a singular rumbling noise, that seemed to proceed from within the dying captive Taking a ship ax, they soon cut their way into the now dead fish, and, to their great surprise, found that it had swallowed the carpenter's grindstone and boy, and that the former, who had swooned, had rigged up the grindstone, and, with the assistance of the boy to turn it, was just grinding his jackknife to cut his way out.

Slightly Improving in Honesty.—A few days since the Republican papers all declared that the expenses of the Government for the fiscal year ending the 1st of July, 1858, were $100,000,000. By a dint of persuasion and argument they were at last convinced that it was proper to deduct from this sum the $20,000,000 loan authorized by Congress in June, to meet a deficiency expected to arise in the year ending July 1st 1859, not a dollar of which has been expended in the year which closed the 1st of this month. Deducting this $20,000 000 they now claim and publish taxable to show that $81,000,000 were expended in the last fiscal year. This is nearer right, but it is far from being correct. They still charge in this $81,000.000 to Mr. Buchanan's account of $15 000,000 of debts, which was contracted by the Republican Congress before he was elected, and also some millions of Treasury notes that are now on hand They must deduct these and then the expenses will be about $60'000,000 which is the average they have been for some years —Cin Enq

The Secret—Old 'Squire J——, of Addison County, Vt, was famous for bringing to market a better article of cheese than any of his agricultural neighbors, which occasioned a merchant to inquire "how it happened" "I think I can tell you the secret of it" said the 'Squire "You may have noticed that when the milk stands for awhile in the pans, there is a kind of yellow scum that has risen on the top of it Now some women are so dreadful neat they skim this all off: but my wife ain't so perticuler, but stirs it all in together, and really I think the cheese is all the better for it."

☞ All the appearances in the vine countries of Europe indicate that the present season will will be an uncommonly favorable one for the wine-makers. The vines in all parts of the Continent seem to be, for the first time in a considerable number of years, free from the odium, and full of good grapes, of which the quality has been made unusually good by the hot weather and the absence of rain. In France, the wine crop promises to be the largest ever seen, and the people are anticipating great things of it. Owing to the long drouth in France it is said that 'wine will be cheaper than water' there

Hypocrisy.—Francis F. Blair, jr., the Abolition Emancipation candidate of the Republicans of St Louis, who was beaten on the 2d of August by Barrett, (Democrat) holds half a dozen negroes as slaves, which he works and hires out, as suits his convenience. This Blair is a good specimen of the hypocrisy of Republicanism, which talks philantrophy and practices tyrany and oppression. These fellows grind the poor white man to the duty—taking his strength and sinews for the smallest pittance, while all their tears and groans are reserved for the negro race Will such men ever learn to blush for their own shortcoming?—Terre Haute Journal.

How to get rid of a Husband—Then have no Illinois on Indiana in France—no state of bliss, where husbands drop off like rotten fruit from the tree that naturally wishes to bud and flower again. In ridding themselves of thier husbands, the French Ladies can have no resource in the laws; their only chance and hope is in their tact. For instance. Madame X—— is a fashionable woman of thirty; a woman of the world, but irreproachable, hitherto, in her conduct; wealthy and wedded, and abundantly worth loving, But, to her highest happiness, (of which she hopes to have the harvest hereafter,) her husband is, take him all in all, a promiscuous obstacle. Not long since, Madame X—— commenced the commission of a very extraordinary little improprieties. She first went to the theatre in the evening, all alone. After the play she came out, without an attendant; and though it was midnight, drove to one of the most public resturants of the Boulevard. With her vail down she stepped up to the counter and inquired whether there was any set of young men, just then at supper!

Surprised at such a question from a lady of so very distinguished and madest an exterior, the proprietor replied in the affirmative—pointing to a door leading to a private saloon, where a dozen "fast boys," were just seated around the table for a midnight carouse. Madame opened the door and walked in; lifted her vail, and smiled, a most charming "good evening," to the astonished youths, requesting the liberty to make one of their number.

The request was at once acceded to, of course and the fair stranger seated herself between two young men, both very bland and amiable. The rivalry for her attention, between all the gentlemen at the table, was exceedingly lively. She ate her supper very heartily and honestly, conversed very gayly, and finally, at two in the morning, she called to the waiter, paid her share of the supper and retired

With all her liveliness and grace, the mysterious lady's behavior had been so positively unexceptionable and ladylike, that no one had ventored upon upon any familiarity

The explanation of this riddle is, that Madame X—— is getting up "appearances," which should provoke her husband to a quarrel and a separation—to end by future aggravation in a divorce! She is not quite thirty years of age, beautiful in figure and features, and has been irreproachable hitherto in her character and conduct. But her husband is wholly unworthy of Her, and their life together is a misery. By flinging his pride, by arousing his suspicions she trusts to provoke him to seek a legal separation!

Alas! for the obstacles to her wishes It is the link of gold that binds them! She has the melancholy misfortune of being so rich, in her own right, that he cannot afford to be offended with her! With her spoil his pride will slumber and she probably, will fail in her enterprise.

A Love Tragedy in India—A family in Belgravia (says the Court Circular) has lately plunged into great grief from melancholy and most singular circumstances. When Sir Colin Campbell left England many brave and manly hearts accompanied him, among whom was the eldest son of a reverend prelate high in the church. This young gentleman left a lady behind him to whom he was passionately attached and had promised to marry. Her fortune being small, the clerical dignitary threatened to disinherit his son if he did, and to alienate his affections from the party in question, he was sent to India. His father charged him at his departure never to think of her more if he wished to be remembered by him The lover got safe to his destination, but his heart beat with undiminished affection. He could not avoid communicating his constancy, and wrote to his beloved assuring her that no threats or anger of his unfeeling parent should ever banish the tender recollection of their reciprocal passion. Having occasion at the same time to his father for additional supplies, he demanded them on the ground that he renounced his mistress forever. By a most unfortunate accident the two came to England misdirected—the one intended for the parent falling into the hands of the lady, and that intended for the lady into those of the parent. The latter on receipt of his epistle, sent back such an indignant answer as fully awakened the son to the consequences of the fatal mistake he had made in the direction of the letters. Fully alive to the finest sensibilities, and not able to combat a feeling of shame for the unintentional error he had committed, shot himself.

Collapse of the Anti-Slavery Agitation—The defeat of Blair for Congress, in Missouri, indicates a remarkable collapse in the anti slavery agitation. It is but the beginning of the end Kansas is done for, and the same wholesome, conservative, general reaction which culminated in the election of 1852, is now beginning to work against the nigger agitators. The Seward Republican party are in shoal water, and the chances now are, that before December next they will be hard aground. The defeat of Blair, in St Louis, shows that Kansas shrieking has ceased to pay expenses. That St Louis election is one of the most significant and important manifestations of a new political organization.—New York Herald

Read what follows, parents—ponder it well, and do not be caught in the same snare:

You have a little boy—he may be four years old—you think there is no time to be lost, and you send him to school. There he is confined for hours, and compelled to sit upon a hard bench and look upon a book. He hears the voices of children playing without—he half rises to look from the window—a rap upon the teacher's desk recalls him to his seat upon the bench—a glance shows him the kite, sailing in the air, to the delight of its happy little proprietor; the poor child is almost involuntarily upon his feet again, another rap, and he again drops into his seat upon the bench Day after day, week after week, month after month, the little fellow returns to his prison, and sits upon his bench.

At length he becomes pale and languid, loses his appetite, grows restless at night, has a cough, and loses his flesh and spirits Ought he not to be taken from the bench? The consequence of this would be terrible—he would lose his rank in that school; So he continues to sit upon the bench. After a few weeks more he is brought home. He had fainted as he sat upon the bench! Matters begin to wear a serious aspect. The doctor is called—pronounces him very ill. A great pity he had been compelled to sit upon the bench It is all over with the poor child. Ere long he dies A sad calamity? But, thank God, there is one precious consolation—before he died he had learned his A B C's.

An old lady residing not far from Exeter was perhaps one of the most brilliant examples of conjugal tenderness that the last century produced. Her husband had long been dying, and at length, on the clergymen of the parish making one of his daily visits, he found him dead The disconsolate widow, in giving him an account of her spouse's last moments told him her "poor dear man kept groaning and groaning but he could not die; at last," said she, "I recollected I had got a piece of new tape in the drawer, so I took some of that and tied it as tight as I could around his neck, and then I stopped his nose with my thumb and finger, and poor dear! he went off like a lamb!"

Feet Washing—A Western Baptist paper has received an article advocating the duty of washing feet as an ordinance of the Church. The editor says that he considers it a subject of minor importance and does not wish to enter in to a controversy on it. But as to the washing of the saints' feet, he says, "if they need washing, they certainly ought to be washed"

☞ "Massa says you must sartin pay de bill to day," says a negro to a New Orleans shopkeeper "Why, he isn't afraid I'm going to run away, is he?" "Not exactly dat, but look ahere," said the darkey, mysteriously, "he's gwine to run away hesself, and dar'son wants to make a big raise!"

The Democratic Party is Neither a Pro-Slavery nor an Anti-Slavery Party.

The Democratic party needs no defence against the attempts of speculators in philanthrophy to characterize it as a pro slavery party, except to point to its creed as adopted by its representative bodies, and its principles as embodied in its leading measures, which assume the form of party issues. As a national party it has NO creed on the subject of slavery, except that its existence shall be left entirely to the action of the people of each State and Territory. It is neither for nor against slavery. It might just as truly be called an anti slavery as a pro slavery party. It is neither, in its national organization and relations. It insists that New York and South Carolina shall each determine for itself whether it

SATURDAY, AUGUST 21, 1858

Speeches.—Col McClure, and W A Peelle, candidates for Secretary of State, addressed our citizens last Saturday evening. Mr Peelle opened the discussion. His speech was a mere rehash of the trash we have been afflicted with for the past three years about bleeding Kansas and Lecompton frauds. He dwelt long and labored hard on this subject, but we could not discover anything new, or that had not already been much better said, on the question. He denounced the democratic leaders as corrupt, and charged the administration with extravagance, but failed to bring forward any proof or make any specifications of the extravagance which he alleged the democrats had been guilty of. On the whole, it was about as poor an effort as we have ever listened to.

Col McClure's reply was a masterly vindication of the democratic policy in regard to Kansas, and the rights of the inhabitants of territories to manage their own affairs in their own way, without congressional or other outside interference. The charges of his antagonist were boldly met, and triumphantly refuted. The outcry about extravagance was shown to be unfounded, and moreover if true, the republicans were answerable for them, as all the appropriations were sustained by that party, and many of the items would be found to meet deficiencies in the expenditures made by the previous Congress when the opposition were in the majority. It was throughout an excellent speech, and we regret our limits prevent our doing more ample justice to it.

The Great Event of the Age!—The submarine telegraph, uniting Europe and the American continent is at length completed, and congratulatory messages have been sent over it from Queen Victoria to President Buchanan, and from the President to the Queen. The particulars will be found in another column. This is a wonderful achievement of science, and truly the great event of the nineteenth century. The effect it will have on the commercial, diplomatic, and social intercourse between Great Britain and America is almost beyond conception; and should it be found to work without interruption and fulfil the expectations of its sanguine friends it will indeed be a most glorious and valuable institution.

The great event has been most enthusiastically celebrated in New York, Boston, Philadelphia, Chicago, and in short throughout the entire country. Firing of cannon, illuminations, bonfires, speeches, processions &c &c. have been the order of the day, and the most exuberant joy has been manifested throughout the length and breadth of the land, at the happy consummation of this stupendous project.

Wisconsin Money.—On Wedesday morning a dispatch reached here that the Chicago Banks refused to receive the notes of some 25 of the Wisconsin Banks. This caused quite an excitement, as a large amount of Wisconsin money is in circulation here; the report was these banks had failed, and as a necessary consequence all Wisconsin money was immediately refused, and it was looked upon as doubtful if not worthless The panic appears to have been groundless, and the whole affair turns out to have been an ingenious piece of rascality on the part of Chicago shavers to plunder the holders of that kind of currency, and buy it up at a heavy discount. The notes of all the Wisconsin banks are amply secured by good state stocks, and are doubtless as good as any other paper currency.

These periodical plunderings of the public, through paper money and panics, naturally beget distrust in our present banking system, and are strong arguments in favor of the democratic hard money doctrine That is the only safe currency, and the one which can never fail or depreciate in value

We copy a couple of paragraphs from the Chicago Press & Tribune, of Tuesday which show how the panic was got up, and how little grounds there were for it.

There was some little fluster in the street yesterday in consequence of the throwing out by our leading bankers of a large number of Wisconsin banks.

* * * * * * *

Most, if not all of the leading railroads agreed this morning to take the bills of these banks in their ordinary business. Holders should remember that these banks are not broken. They are secured by State stocks, and are good for nearly, if not quite, the face of them Let no one sacrifice upon them for the present If the leading banks will not take them, the brokers will soon fix a price on them, and when they do we shall at once advise our readers of the terms fixed We learn that dispatches were received in the city yesterday from Madison, stating that arrangements were making by most of the banks to redeem in that city, and if they are perfected, their bills will be par at once. We are quite sure at the worst that the bills will not depreciate below five or ten per cent.

Wisconsin Money—The money brokers who took advantage yesterday of the public alarm, caused by throwing out the notes of certain Wisconsin banks, by half a dozen bankers of the city, reaped quite a harvest. Many of the bills were sold as low as eighty cents, while large amounts were exchanged for gold at eighty-five to ninety. This is all unnecessary and foolish; and many of those who have submitted this unmerciful shave will regret their haste before the work is over: The proscribed notes, though not as good as coin, are well secured by interest paying State stocks, and will in other respects compare favorably with much of the Illinois currency in good credit. Without doubt it is all bad enough; but in times like these it is folly to make bad worse by groundless and absurd alarm.

P. S. Since the above was written we learn that there may be grounds for suspecting the solvency of some of the Wisconsin banks. They are said to be mere wild cats, located in inaccessible places, having no capital, and secured only by worthless railroad securities, instead of state stocks. If this be so, their notes are not of much value A movement is on foot on the part of the sound banks to have all notes redeemed at Madison or Milwaukee All the Wisconsin banks which come into this arrangement may be looked upon as sound—those which do not, it would be as well to avoid A few days will probably decide the matter, and separate the sheep from the goats.

The Burnt District.—The notorious Dave Kilgore has been renominated for Congress by the republicans of the 5th district. He is rather an old representative of the staid, old shadbelly quaker portion of his constituents, and his nomination is anything but satisfactory to the friends of Julian, Morton, Holloway, and other aspirants for Congressional honors. There will be fun in the burnt district before the election is over.

HON. TOM CORWIN. was nominated on Monday last, by the Republican Convention of the 7th Congressional District in Ohio, as their candidate for Congress. Tom is a good stamper and an able man, and will be hard to beat In his speeches he does not endorse the views of the more ultra of his Republican brethren.

Huntington and Whitley District Convention—The democratic district convention for Huntington and Whitley counties was held at Springfield on Saturday last. James R Slack Esq. of Huntington was nominated for the Senate, and J B Firestone for Representative. Both are good democrats, deservedly popular with their fellow citizens, and we have strong hopes will be elected. The district it is true, is rather close, but if the democrats do their duty faithfully and bring out their full strength to the polls, victory will perch on their banners.

The Atlantic Telegraph.

Grand Celebration at Ft. Wayne!

Last night, according to arrangements made by our Common Council, a grand celebration and jubilee, in honor of the success of the Atlantic telegraph, was had in our city. A salute of one hundred guns was fired; all the church bells were rung; flags and streamers were stretched across the streets; most of the stores were illuminated: bonfires threw out their ruddy gleams in every direction; and the whole city seemed wrapped in a blaze of light The two fire companies and a large mass of citizens formed a magnificent torch light procession, and promenaded our principal streets, accompanied by martial music and two brass bands: after which the immense concourse assembled in the public square, where, after a fervent and appropriate prayer by Rev Mr Lowrie, speeches were made by H McCulloch R E Fleming Revs Lowrie and Curtis, W S Smith, and others. A general feeling of gladness and enthusiasm seemed to pervade all classes, and the entire celebration was admirably conducted throughout. It was by far the best and most spirited demonstration ever got up in our city, and will long be remembered by our citizens in connection with the great event it was intended to commemorate

☞ The number of children within the limits of this city, between the ages of 5 and 20 years, in the enumeration for school purposes, is 2398, viz. 1135 males, and 1263 females. This is an increase of nearly two hundred over last year's enumeration.

Specie in New York.—There is now in the banks and the sub-treasury in New York, $44,037,289 in specie. At the same time last year the amount was $23,683,453. Increase $20,353,836.

DEAD—MR. SAMPSON DOUGLASS, who had his leg cut off by a mowing machine on the farm of Mr. McCormick, in Aboite township, about two weeks ago, died on Saturday last.

Toledo, Wabash, & Western Railroad.—The Toledo Blade says:—

"No road in the country is doing a more prosperous business at this time than the Toledo, Wabash & Western. The freight business upon it has been steadily on the increase since it was opened, and there is every reason to believe that the most sanguine expectations of its projectors will be fully realized. The earnings of the first week in August are $19,565 42, which is a large increase over the business of last year.

We are assured that within a few weeks past the passenger business has doubled."

A SWINDLE.—The State Sentinel cautions the public against receiving notes purporting to be issued by the Western Exchange Bank at Indianapolis, G. S Hamer, Cashier. The is no such bank authorized by law, and the whole affair is a swindle.

GEN. JO LANE, of Oregon, was at Indianapolis on Wednesday, and was honored with a public welcome.

Scientific American.—Two numbers more will complete the present volume of this truly valuable and widely appreciated scientific journal. The new volume will commence on the 11th September. Every mechanic and scientific man who does not already take the Scientific American, should send in his name and commence with the new volume—the money could not be better invested; and those who do take it, must renew their subscriptions. Terms only $2,00 per annum. A club of 10 will be furnished for $15,00—only $1,50 per annum each. This is certainly cheap enough, when the intrinsic value and high character of this paper are taken into consideration. Who will get up a club?

Published by MUNN & Co. 128 Fulton Street, New York.

The Van Wert Constitutionalist has been enlarged and furnished with an entire new dress. It is now one of the best looking, as it has long been one of the best country papers in the Buckeye State. It is thoroughly democratic, and by its faithful and earnest support of the principles of its party, has richly earned, and we hope receives, a warm and liberal support from the sterling democracy of Van Wert

☞ DRS. MAWSON & HALLIWELL, surgeon dentists from Cleveland, Ohio, have arrived and taken an office over the Eagle Drug Store. They design settling permanently in this city, and following their profession, with all the latest improvements. Their advertisement will appear in our next.

Piano Forte Tuning and Repairing.

MR. J B. BAKER, of Louisville, Ky., comes to us highly recommended by Professors Morse, of Louisville, and Heitz, formerly of this city, as a tuner and repairer of Piano Fortes. We would advise those who wish their Pianos put in first-rate order to give him a call. He will remain but a few days. Orders left at the store of Mr. J. A. Colerick, corner of Clinton and Columbia Sts. will meet with prompt attention. His charges are very moderate.

Stage Line to Wolf Lake and Wawaka.—We direct attention to the advertisement of M Glynn's line of U S mail stages for the above points. Persons travelling in that direction will find this a very safe, comfortable and cheap mode of conveyance Mr G also keeps an extensive livery stable, and is prepared to furnish horses and carriages to any part of the Union on the shortest notice and most favorable terms.

A Gentle Denial—The Chicago Times publishes what it calls an extract from an official letter by I. Cook, postmaster of that fast city, in which he recommends administration democrats to vote for republicans in preference to Douglas men! The Chicago Herald denies the charge and gently pitches into the Times as follows:

The Times Forgery—The Times of yesterday morning contained an extract, purporting to be taken from a letter written by Mr Cook to some person unknown, urging the National Democrats to support the Republican ticket whenever they were not strong enough to run one of their own. The charge originated with the Quincy Herald, edited by one of the most unprincipled scoundrels that ever disgraced the public press. It has already in the columns of this paper, been denounced as a pure unadulterated forgery the perpetrator of which is as morally criminal and felonious as though it had been a forged receipt or draft. The editor of the Times knew it to be a forgery at the time he published it, and was guilty of a cowardly, contemptible falsehood, when he asserted its authenticity. When Mr Sheahan states that he can produce the original letter written by Mr Cook, containing the language of that extract, he simply and plainly lies—lies in his teeth—lies in his heart—lies from the sole of his foot to the crown of his head—and we so deliberately brand him, editorially and individually. We defy Mr Sheahan to produce such a letter, or one in the slightest degree resembling it. Produce the letter. Mr Sheahan, or submit to be publicly posted as a brazen, unprincipled vagabond.

☞ WM. FLEMING, Esq, an untiring and capital Democrat, has been nominated for sheriff of Allen County, Indiana. He has served that county in this capacity before, and made an excellent officer.—Cleveland Plaindealer.

☞ Just so, Mr. Plaindealer. He made a most excellent officer, and will be re-elected by an overwhelming majority.

☞ At the regular quarterly meeting of the Directors of the State Bank of Indiana, held at Indianapolis on Wednesday, the following dividends were declared. The branches of Fort Wayne, Terre Haute, Vincennes, Indianapolis, and Evansville, 10 per cent.; Lawrenceburg and South Bend, 20 per cent; Madison 5 per cent. It is now demonstrated that the State of Indiana will realize about two million of dollars clear profit through its connection wit this bank and the Sinking Fund.

The Atlantic Telegraph.

Messages of Queen Victoria and President Buchanan

NEW YORK, August 15.

The following message from Mr DeStanty, one of the assistant electricians of the Atlantic Telegraph Company, has been received:

TO THE DIRECTORS OF THE ATLANTIC TELEGRAPH.

TRINITY BAY, August 11.

The cause of not transmitting and receiving intelligence through the cable, is, that the instruments require a great deal of care and adjusting. I am doing this as fast as possible. You should not look upon the cable as an old way, short telegraph line that can be worked through directly. The cable has been successfully laid, and telegraphic signals have passed through it at pleasure, but we have encountered many little difficulties which require time, and which only many experiments can entirely overcome. I see no reason to doubt that we shall be able, within a few days, to surmount all difficulties I will send the earliest intimation of the probable time that the Queen's message may be expected.

Signed, DESTANTY.

In addition to the above a private dispatch has been received from a reliable gentleman at St John's, who is in a position to obtain the earliest and most correct unofficial intelligence concerning the operations, in which he says that communications from the office at Valentia Bay have been received, but from some unexplained cause it has been impossible to send that or any other intelligence to the operators at Valentia This state of things often occur upon land lines; offices can receive correctly from a different operator and yet be unable to send a word, and the difficulty is, sooner or later, found to be in the battery, its connections, or in the instruments; and there is no reason to doubt that the present difficulty in working the cable, as soon as the electricians can compare notes, will be entirely overcome.

NEW YORK, August 16

Information has been received that the cable is all right at both ends, and that the Queen's Message will probably be received this evening.

Immediately on the announcement of the Queen's Message being received over the Atlantic cable, the bells of Old Trinity Church struck up a merry peal. The public buildings were decorated with flags and salutes were fired, according to previous arrangements

The greatest enthusiasm everywhere prevails at the joyful intelligence of the telegraphic union of Europe and America.

The Queen's Message.

VALENTIA BAY, VIA TRINITY BAY.

To the Honorable the President of the U. S.—Her Majesty desires to congratulate the President upon the successful completion of the great International work, in which the Queen has taken the deepest interest. The Queen is convinced that the President will join her in fervently hoping that the Electric Cable which now connects Great Britian with the United States, will prove an additional link between the nations whose friendship is founded upon their common interest and reciprocal esteem. The Queen has much pleasure in thus communicating to the President and renewing to him her wishes for the prosperity of the United States.

The President's Reply.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 16.

To Her Majesty Victoria, Queen of Great Britain and Ireland.—The President cordially reciprocates the congratulations of Her Majesty the Queen, on the success of the great international enterprise, accomplished by the science, skill, and indomnitable energy of the two countries. It is a triumph more glorious because far more useful to mankind than was ever won by a conqueror on the field of battle. May the Atlantic Cable, under the blessing of Heaven, prove to be a bond of perpetual peace and friendship between the kindred nations, and an instrument destined by Divine Providence to diffuse religion, civilization liberty and law through out the world.

In this view will not all nations of Christendom spontaneously unite in the declaration that it shall be forever neutral, and that its communications shall be held sacred in the passage to their places of destination, even in the midst of hostilities, Signed, JAS BUCHANAN.

CYRUS STATION. N. F.,
August 16 1858

To the Directors of the Atlantic Telegraph Company, New York.—Europe and America are united by Telegraph—Glory to God in the Highest, on Earth Peace, Good will towards men.

DIRECTORS OF ATLANTIC TELEGRAPH COMPANY, GREAT BRITAIN.

WASHINGTON, Aug 16.

The intelligence of the reception of the Queen's message rapidly spread throughout the city, and this evidence of the successful working of the telegraph cable, occasioned much rejoicing. In some quarters, however, its authenticity was doubted, until a dispatch from the General Agent of the Associated Press removed all doubt The first intimation on the subject to the President was communicated through Senator Bigler from information obtained from Washington from the Associated Press agency, when the President returned to the city from the "Soldier's Home," and received at the White House the message from Her Majesty Queen Victoria. He then prepared a suitable reply. The Queen's Message was received by the President with some doubts as to its authenticity, but the matter was relieved of all doubts by the following message, from the Superintendent of the Newfoundland line.

TRINITY BAY, Aug. 16th—The message to the President, purporting to be from the Queen actually came over the Atlantic Cable from Valencia.

NEW YORK, Aug. 17.

A salute of 100 guns will be fired to day; this evening every public building will be illuminated and numerous bonfires will be lighted in various parts of the city, and many private building will be illuminated. Should the Niagara arrive salutes will be fired in honor of her. The grand celebration depends upon the day to be fixed by the authorities of London and throughout the world.

The following message was sent to day by Mayor Tieman to the Lord Mayor of London; I congratulate your Lordship on the successful laying of the Atlantic Cable, uniting the Continents of Europe and America, and the cities of London and New York—the work of Great Britain and the United States—the triumph of science and energy everspace, thus uniting more closely the bonds of peace and commercial prosperity introducing an era into the world's history pregnant with results beyond the conception of finite man. To God be all the praises

Signed, D. F TIEMANN,
Mayor of N. Y. City.

NEW YORK, Aug. 18.

The Atlantic Cable—Mr. Field states that he has not least doubt of the cable being an entire success. By the Niagara off the bar, outward bound, he wrote to the directors of the Atlantic Telegraph Company of Great Britain recommending them to prepare another cable at once as it was evident that the present one which in a short time may transmit messeges as rapidly as an air line will not be sufficient for business Until the first of September, the line will be closed to all messages excepting those form the Governments of Great Britain and the United States

NEW YORK, Aug 19.

The joint committee on the Cable celebration had a meeting to day and fired upon the 1st of September for a grand celebration. It was also decided to send a dispatch to the Lord Mayor and Common Council of London informing them of the fact. The British born people of this city intend to have a special celebration of the event and a meeting was held to day to take the initiative in the matter.

The Terminus of the Atlantic Cable and Surrounding Scenery—All who have visited Trinity Bay, Newfoundland, with one consent allow it to be one of the most beautiful sheets of water they ever set eyes upon. Its color is very peculiar—an inexpressible mingling of the pure blue ocean with the deep evergreen woodlands, and the serene blue sky. Its extreme length is about eighty miles, its breadth about thirty miles, opening boldly into the Atlantic on the northern side of the island. At its southwestern shore it branches into the Bay of Bull's Arm, which is a quiet, safe and beautiful harbor about two miles in breadth, and nine or ten in length, running in a direction north west The depth of water is sufficient for the largest vessels. The tide rises seven or eight feet, and the bay terminates in a beautiful sand beach. The shore is clothed with dark green fir trees, which, mixed with birch and mountain ash, present a pleasing contrast.

Tenth District.—At the Congressional Convention for this district, held on Friday last, the 13th inst, at Kendallville, Hon RUBEN J. DAWSON was, by acclamation, nominated as the Democratic candidate for Congress, Judge DAWSON is a gentleman of decided ability, of great energy of character, accurately informed upon the political issues of the day, and sound in his political faith At the election two years ago, Brenton beat Lowry by 710 majority. While this is a large majority to overcome, we believe that Judge DAWSON, by a vigorous canvass, can accomplish it There was never a better state of feeling among the Democracy of the Tenth District than now, and a strong disposition is manifested by the Democrats who left us two years ago upon the Kansas issue, to return to their old party associations as their wisest and best policy—one by which they can do the most for the welfare of their country and the prosperity of its institutions. We confidently expect the Democracy of the Tenth will elect Judge DAWSON, who will prove a worthy champion of their cause and an able representative of their principles, which they can it they will but put forth the necessary effort.—State Sentinel

Parliament was prorogued by commission on the 2nd. Her Majesty's message says the session has been productive of many important measures. Her Majesty looks with confidence to the preservation of general peace, and trusts that the labors of the Paris Conference may lead to a satisfactory solution of the questions referred to them. She alluded to the gallantry and devotedness of the troops in India and hopes that those efforts have already so far been crowned with success that the revolt may be speedily suppressed. She has given willing to consent to the bills transferring the government of India to her direct authority, and hopes by a just and impartial administration of the law to secure its advantages to her race and creed. The Queen thanks the commissioners for the judicious liberality with which they have provided for the exigencies in the public service The rest of the message is devoted to local matters. Parliament was then prorogued until Oct. 19th.

The Queen's message is attacked by the Times in severe terms, which expresses unaffected thankfulness that Her Majesty's lips had not been insulted with its utterance.

Arrival of the Steamship Arabia.

ST JOHN'S, August 16.

The Royal mail steamship Europa bound for Liverpool, came in collision, on Saturday evening with the Royal mail steamship Arabia, from Liverpool, bound to New York. The Arabia mistook the Europa's light for the Cape Race lights.

The Europa arrived here to day, having lost her cut water and stem, and otherwise damaged. She will repair here

The Arabia lay by the Europa for some time then proceeded on. She was not much damaged.

The dispatches of the Associated Press were not put on board the Europa, but only a few Liverpool papers: hence the following imperfect dispatch

The advices by the Arabia are to the 7th inst., one week later

ST. LOUIS, Aug 18—Leavenworth, Aug 10—Per U. S. Express to Boonville, Aug 18. The Salt Lake Mail arrived with St Josephs dates to the 24th of July.

Brigham Young is reported to have shut him self up in his residence, under strong guard, fearing assassination.

General Johnston intended to more his encampment and prepare for going into winter quarters.

Col Hoffman still remained at Bridger. The Battalion Volunteers were also at Bridger.

A great battle was reported to have taken place between 700 Pawnees and war parties of Camanches, Cheyennes, and Arrapahoes, in the Big Blue Region, in which four Pawnees were killed and several wounded, and 16 of the allied tribes were killed and many wounded.

Capt Marcy expected to leave shortly for the States.

Governor Cumming in Utah—Colonel Kane—Major Bridger, the old mountaineer for whom the fort was named which was destroyed by the Mormons last fall, reached Kansas City on the 7th inst., directly from General Johnston's camp in Utah. He is reported by the Kansas Journal as saying

The feeling toward Governor Cumming is not very favorable, and it is thought he is influenced in his actions by Brigham Young, endeavoring to operate upon the Mormons through him, thus placing himself in the power of that unscrupulous old scoundrel.

Colonel Kane, of whom so much has been said and written, is a Mormon, baptized at Kanesville, wearing the endowment robe, and sent out with the blessing of the prophet upon his head, to work for the interests of the Church. None of the Gentiles in the Valley have confidence in him whatever. Brigham Young, in a speech the Sunday before Bridger left, expressed great love for the United States, denied having ever done anything except burning the trains last season, and promising to restore the cattle. This is about all the Government will ever receive.

He is not the first, or the third, who has charged Governor Cumming with being under the influence of Brigham—and by this time, we have no doubt, the Government at Washington has been legitimately advised of the facts in the case. We have good reason for making this declaration.

BALTIMORE, August 16.

The New York railroad companies, persisting in their ruinous reduction of rates to Cincinnati, and the regions more legitimately connected with Baltimore, the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company has recently made a decided retaliatory strike by reducing the rates of freight between New York, Cleveland, Chicago and the lake country, to thirty cents per hundred pounds less than by the Erie and New York Central roads, for first and second class goods. With the present immense equipment and good condition of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, aided by its connections, this additional trade can readily be accommodated

The new President of the Pittsburgh Fort Wayne & Chicago Railway Company.—We noticed last week the appointment of Mr. Edgar Thompson, to this important post, in place of Mr. G W Cass, resigned. Mr. Cass tendered his resignation, to take effect on the 1st of Aug. It was accepted to take effect so soon as Mr T. was prepared to assume his new duties, which will be during August, probably. Mr. Thompson will soon be at the head of the longest railway line in operation. The Pennsylvania Railway, of which he it now President, and the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne, and Chicago Railway, of which he is President elect, together constitute 818 miles of Railway, extending on the most direct practicable route from Philadelphia to Chicago. And have together cost near $45.000 000. The Tribune pays a well deserved compliment to Mr Thompson's services in railway constructure and management of the great line of which he is now at the head It says: While the organization and financial affairs of the two companies will, with the exception of the Presidency, be as heretofore distinct, the indacement for the selection of Mr. Thompson as head of both roads were ample, as well in his own high character and experience as a railroad manager, as in the fact that the Pennsylvania Railway Company, is the largest stockholder and bondholder in the Pitts. Fort Wayne and Chicago Road, and as its naturally, is most deeply interested in its success Mr. Thompson entered into the service of the Pennsylvania Co as its Chief Engineer, on the organization of the engineer Department of that road in 1847, having previously established a high reputation as Chief Engineer and Superintendent of the Georgia Road. The Pennsylvania Railroad was located and constructed under his supervision. The character of the work to be done called for the highest order of engineering ability. In February, 1852, Mr Thompson, was elected President of the Pennsylvania Company, and has since administered its affairs with eminent success In thorough, practical knowledge of railroad affairs in every department, the fruit of long experience and in administrative ability, he has few equals among Railroad men in this country, and upon few men could so great a burden as he is about to assume rest with more certainty that it will be borne with honor to himself and satisfaction to the public and to the owners of the properties concerned. The work of construction of the unfinished part of the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne and Chicago Road west of Plymouth, is in rapid progress and the grading and track laying so far advanced as to insure the opening of the road to Chicago by the 1st of November next. At the same time that the line is open from Chicago to Pittsburgh, it will also, by arrangement with the Cleveland, Columbus, and Cincinnati Railroad Company, be opened as a through line, without change of cars, from Chicago to Cleveland, via Crestline over a uniform gauge, of which 278 miles are part of the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne and Chicago Road and 75 miles part of the Cleveland Columbus and Cincinnati Road. When the revival of enterprise shall again set the streams of commerce in motion, the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne and Chicago Road will be in condition to do its share of the traffic due to its position. —Railway Times.

☞ The earnings of the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne & Chicago Rail Road Company for the month of July were $107.949 65, showing a decrease as compared with same month of last year of $11 606 53 being a decrease of 7 3-10 per cent The expenditures for the same time were $75,802 65 showing a decrease of $32 974 97 from July 1857, or 30 1 3 per cent, and showing an increase on the nett earnings of $21 368 44.

Grand Rapids and Indiana Railway.—At the Annual meeting of the Stockholders of this Company, held at the office of the company in Sturgis, Michigan, July 19th, the following persons were elected Directors:

On the 20th the new Board met and reelected all the old officers, to wit; Jos Lomax, Pres: W Allman, Secretary; R Reed, Treas: J D Cook, Chief Engineer.

The Grand Rapids Eagle states, that Mr J Scribner, one of the directors has taken the contract to clear, grub, grade, culvert, bridge, lay the ties, and in all respects make and complete the road bed ready for the iron, twenty miles north of that city, on on before the 15th day of October next year. For his work he is to collect and receive subscriptions, as far as they may go—the company agreeing to pay him the balance from time to time, as the work progresses; and also claiming the right to pay laborers, in case of the neglect of the contractor to do so, and charge the amount so paid as payment on the contract Similar contracts have been made with Messrs. Van Lew & Whitney, for the fifteen miles south of Kelloggsville; the work to be prosecuted forthwith, and completed in six months.

General Harney Ordered to the Pacific.—We learn that General Harney, just arrived in this city from the plains, received orders on Tuesday to report himself immediately at Washington City. This is construed to mean that he will be put in command of the forces now being organized to chastise the Indians in Oregon, and will be ordered to the Pacific coast Gen Harney's reputation as an Indian fighter costs him a great many hardships.—St Louis Democrat

☞ We cannot refrain from calling the attention of our readers to the advertisement in this day's paper of the "Hair Restorative" of Prof O. J Wood & Co, of St Louis. It will be seen that he has numerous certificates from persons of the highest character, to the merits of his Restorative From positive knowledge we are able to say that it is in every sense what it professes to be, and we do not hesitate to pronounce it the finest preparation for the head and hair which has so far been devised by human ingenuity. We have seen it arrest threatened baldness and restore to the head its original profusion of natural and glossy hair, and when the latter has been prematurely tinged with gray, we have seen it like magic restore the colors of youth and health. The distinguished proprietor of this, we might say, miraculous "Restorative," is that it gives to the person who uses it the same head of hair that they wore in youth, thus acting in strict compliance with the rules of the first and greatest of all toilet-makers—Nature, No one who has used it will hesitate to unite with us in this testimony to its peculiar merit,—[Cov. THE GREATEST
Of the Age.

Mr. KENNEDY, of Roxbury, has discovered in one of our common Pasture Weeds, a remedy that cures

Every Kind of Humor.

FROM

The worst Scrofula down to a common Pimple

He has tried it in over eleven hundred cases and never failed except in two cases (both thunder humors) He has now in his possession over one hundred certificates of cures, all within twenty miles of Boston. TWO bottles are warranted to cure a nursing sore mouth

One to three bottles will cure the worst kind of pimples on the face

Two or three bottles will clear the system of blotches.

Two bottles are warranted to cure the worst canker in the mouth or stomach.

Three or five Bottles are warranted to cure the worst kind of Dyspepsia.

One or two bottles are warranted to cure all humor in the eyes.

Two bottles are warranted to cure running of the ears and blotches among the hair

Four to six bottles are warranted to cure corrupt and running ulcers

One bottle will cure scaly eruptions of the skin

Two or three bottles are warranted to cure the worst kind of ringworm.

Two or three bottles are warranted to cure the most desperate case of rheumatism

Three to four bottles are warranted to cure salt rheum.

Five to eight bottles will cure the worst case of scrofula,

One tablespoonful per day will prevent chills and fever

A benefit is always experienced from the first bottle, and a perfect cure is warranted when the directions faithfully taken.

ROXBURY, MASS.

DEAR MADAM—The reputation of the Medical Discovery in curing all kinds of humors, is so well established by the unanimous voice of all who have ever used it, that I need not say anything on the subject, as the most skilful physicians and the most careful Druggists in the country are unanimous in its praise

In presenting the Medical Discovery to your notice I do it with a full knowledge of its curative powers, in relieving all and curing most of those diseases to which you are unfortunately so liable That most excruciating disease to an affectionate mother,

NURSING SORE MOUTH,

is cured as if by a miracle; your own temper is restored to its natural sweetness, and your baby from short and fretful naps to calm and sweet slumbers; and the Medical Discovery becomes a fountain of blessing to your husband and household

In the more advanced stages of

CANKER

It extends to the stomach, causing

DYSPEPSIA.

which is nothing but canker in the stomach; then to the intestines and creating a sinking, gone feeling, and an indifference even to the cares of your family.

Your stomach is

RAW AND INFLAMED,

your food distresses you, and you can only take certain kinds, and even of that your system does no good but the nourishment it contains as the acrimonious fluid of the canker eats it up, then your complexion loses its bloom and becomes sallow or greenish, and your best days is gone. For want of nourishment your system becomes loose and flabby, and the floors of your body become relaxed. Then follow a train of diseases which the Medical Discovery is particularly

ADAPTED TO CURE;

Palpitation of the heart, pain in the side, weakness of the spine and small of the back, pain of the hip joint when you retire, irregularity of the bowels, and also, that most excruciating of diseases, the

PILES.

How many thousands of poor women are suffering from this disease and pining away a miserable life, and their next door neighbor does not know the cause I wish to impress on your mind that good old proverb "An ounce of prevention is better than a pound of cure" In the

you have both the preventative and the cure, with this great and good quality, that it will never, under any circumstances, do you any injury

No change of diet ever necessary—eat the best you can get and enough of it

DIRECTIONS FOR USE Adults, one table spoonful per day; —Children over ten years, dessert spoonful —Children from five to eight years, tea spoonful As no directions can be applicable to all constitutions take sufficient to operate on the bowels twice a day.

Coroner's Inquest.

AN inquest was held by me, on the 5th day of August, 1858, on the body of an unknown man, supposed to be Joseph Stoker, found in the St. Mary's River, near the old toll bridge, in Wayne Township.

The jury, after being duly qualified, found that he was a man of about 45 or 50 years of age, about 5 feet 7 or 8 inches high, auburn hair, dressed in striped cassimere pantaloons, shoes cut from old boots, and black cloth vest, wallet in the pocket, containing four cents—one three cent piece and one cent copper; also some fishing tackle and a pocket knife with one blade, one side of the handle gone; black neck handkerchief, and one old red pocket handkerchief.

"A Casket of Gems of Wit and Wisdom"

A THOUSAND AND ONE STORIES,

OF FACT AND FANCY, WIT AND HUMOR,

RHYME, REASON, & ROMANCE.

EDITED by S. G. GOODRICH,—[Peter Parley.]

One volume, large octavo, handsomely bound and read matter, with gilt side and back; containing 750 pages, and Illustrated with 300 beautiful engravings.

The design of this book is to bring whole libraries into a single volume—to furnish a mental meal for every day and every hour—for every taste, humor, age, caprice—a book for the grave and the gay, the old and the young; we have, therefore, Science and Philosophy, Rhyme and Reason, Wit and Wisdom, Fact and Fancy, which, put together as they come, produce a sort of intellectual plum pudding, made much as the whole is peppered and spiced with puns, conundrums and drolleries, to say nothing of a garnish of three hundred engravings.

In these pages are given the essence of thought and sentiment from Goethe, Sydney Smith, Sam Johnson and many others; clerical anecdotes Hibernian eccentricities, Western extravaganzas gathered from the four winds of the Press; outlines of the tales of Don Quixote and Gil Blas; of the fables of Hindostan and Lafontaine; of the epic poems of Jerusalem Delivered, Telemachus, Orland Furioso, and others; of the Life and Sayings of Mrs Partington and the Widow Bedott; of the Biglow Papers and the Green Mountain Girls; of the Life of Sam Houston, Gerard the Lion killer, Cummings, the elephant destroyer and Livingston the giraffe chaser; of Alexander Dumas, the Swiss Family Robinson, Mr Gliddon and Sam Patch; with spicy extracts of prose and poetry, from the master spirits of the day—Longfellow, Bryant, Bayard Taylor, D Kane, Commodore Perry, etc It furnishes also a fund of information for the serious—the Natural History of the Bible, which is a subject of exhaustless interest; striking facts in Astronomy, Chemistry and Natural History; remarkable Biographies, Interesting Travels, and Wonderful Discoveries in Art and Science.

Peter Parley, the editor of this book, has a world wide reputation, as an author—his writings having become familiar as household words wherever the English language is spoken THIS IS HIS LAST WORK and we predict for it a popularity equal if not superior, to that acquired by any of his former publications.

☞ This work will be SOLD EXCLUSIVELY BY SUBSCRIPTION at the low price of $3 50.—Agents wanted in all parts of the country to obtain subscribers for it

Specimen copies will be sent by mail, prepaid, to any address, upon receipt of the price. For full particulars address DERBY & JACKSON Pub's

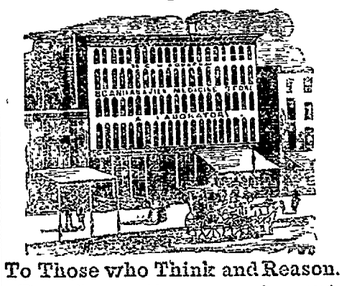
BLOOD PURIFIER AND BLOOD PILLS,

THE GREAT

Scandinavian Vegetable Remedies



To Those who Think and Reason.

The intelligent in this country are always ready to test the merits of a prominent discovery or invention, and if satisfied of its excellence, to adopt, approve, and recommend it It is to this thinking reasoning class, who always look before they leap and whose honest and rational judgement gives tone to public opinion that DR ROBACK'S BLOOD PURIFIER and PILLS owe their immense success. When this GREAT AMBASSADOR OF HEALTH

First announced that his Scandinavian Remedies were infallible in Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Nervous Diseases, Sexual Weakness, Scrofula, Premature old age, Fever and Ague, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Fits, Hemorrhoids or Piles, Weak Stomach, Colic Diarrhea, etc, he stated the manner in which they operated Their actual effects were compared by sagacious men, with the distinguished Physician's statements, and it was found that every stage of the progress of cure, was precisely as he had described it The result was that the mind of the country became interested, and that persons of the highest standing in every city and town in the Union, patronized the preparations, and admitted the claims of the illustrious Swede, to be the First Medical Discoverer of the age.

THE BLOOD PURIFIER AND PILLS are now universally recommended by well informed and candid persons, as an immediate cure for INDIGESTION.

Costiveness, diseases of the Kidneys, Cramps in the Stomach, Wind, Colic, Pain between the Shoulders, Nausea, Headache, LIVER COMPLAINT.

Jaundice, Pain in the right side, Loss of appetite, Sleeplessness, Nightmare,

GENERAL DEBILITY,

Nervous Tremors, Fainting Fits, Epilepsy, Mental Irritation, Despondency, Wasting of the Flesh, SCROFULA.

Sore Legs, Ulcers on the body, Pimples on the face, General Eruptions, Boils, Mercurial Sores, Glandular Swellings, Secondary Symptoms,

NEURALGIA,

Rheumatism, Lumbago, Stiff Joints Paralysis, St Vitus' Dance, Nervous Twitchings, FEMALE COMPLAINTS.

Sexual Weakness, Barrenness, Disease of the Womb, Weakness of the Back, Loins and Limbs

AUTOGRAPH LETTERS.

Of distinguished men in every profession, warmly recommending the preparations may be seen at Dr Roback's Office.

In the SCANDINAVIAN VEGETABLE BLOOD PILLS are united the three great medicinal properties which Physicians have hitherto tried in vain to combine in one preparation They relieve the bowels, purify the blood, and the blood, and invigorate the constitution at once and the same time. To this last will who try them will subscribe The absence of minerals, and of every stupifying drug, renders them harmless, even to the most delicate female, or the feeblest child No one can doubt their superiority after one single trial—they are not only better, but, in fact, cheaper than any other Pills first takes a less number of them to produce a better effect.

Price of the Scandinavian Blood Purifier, $1 per bottle, or $5 per half dozen; Scandinavian Blood Pills, 25 cents per box, or five for $1.

☞ Read Dr. Roback's Special Notices and Certificates, published in a newspaper part of this paper from time to time. Dr Roback's Medical Almanac and Family adviser containing a great amount of interesting and valuable Medical information can be had gratis of any of his agents throughout the country

CARLISLE, Warren Co., O., March 8, 1858

Dr C. W. Roback—Dear Sir; For the benefit of suffering humanity, permit me to say that I have found your Scandinavian Blood Purifier and Blood Pills a sure cure for Indigestion and Liver Complaint. I have suffered from the above mentioned diseases for five years and have tried a great many physicians but all to no purpose I was advised by a friend to try your Blood Purifier and Pills and did so, I was living in Cincinnati at the time, and I went to your office and procured one bottle of the Purifier and one box of Pills to commence with, and bless the day I found your valuable medicines, for I am enjoying good health at present, and feel confident that the cure is permanent Let others buy and take what they please, as for me, give me the Blood Purifier and Pills for all chronic diseases which arise from impure blood or derangement of the digestive organs I take no other medicines, and have not for the last eighteen months.

Most truly, T. V. DUBOIS.

LANCASTER AND MARSEILLES QUILTS

100 LANCASTER and Marseilles

A Righteous Decision.—The English lords of the bench decided, at Westminister, about a month ago, that it was a principle of common law that a counsellor, in questioning a witness, should address him in ordinary tones and in language of respect, such as is employed by one gentleman in conversation with another; that such lawyer has no right to question the private business or moral character of a witness any further than it is apparent they absolutely affect his reliability or touch the case in hand; and that a witness is not bound to answer questions put to him in an insulting or bull-dog manner. If forced to answer by the court, he will have his remedy in an action of damages.—Exchange.

At a Virginia prayer meeting, the chorister being absent, the presiding elder, whose name was Jeeter, called upon one of the deacons and said, after reading a hymn:

'Brother Moon,
Will you raise a tune?'

The deacon lifted up his voice, but, instead of singing at once, he inquired:

'Brother Jeeter,
What's the meter?'

This being satisfactorily answered, Deacon Moon pitched the tune.

I heard a "scrimmage" lately between one of our most popular railroad conductors and a very fast lady; something about fare or change. The conductor wore a long, roomy, white linen sack coat, with a standing collar, and buttoned up to the chin. The lady won the victory most gloriously by the following brilliant and awful destructive charge. "You are a purty fellow, ain't you? You are the fust conductor I ever seed agwine about among a passel ove decent wimmen folks in his shuttail! Ain't you 'shamed ove yerself." We think he was, for he left that car quickly and unbuttoned the shirt tail coat.

A young lady that lives near a railroad crossing appears to have no occupation except perpetually poking her head out of the window. A wag, the other morning, hailed her from the street. Halloo, Miss!" "What do you want?" said she, after the first flush of indignation at being thus accosted. "The bell ain't rung yet," was the answer. 'What do you mean?" asked Miss. "Why," was the reply, "that sign says you're to 'lookout' when the bell rings, but you're looking out all the time" The young lady's head disappeared with a jerk, and the window went down with a slam.

The following marriage is announced in the papers: "Thomas Buler Chinn, Esq. of the Close Litchfield, to Eliza Tippett, daughter of the late secretary of the navy." A wag, who is always on the alert, wrote the following couplet upon this union:

"Although the sun is sultry yet,
The cold will soon set in:
And Thomas does quite right to get
A Tippet for his Chinn."

A Dutchman being called upon for a toast, said: "Here's to the heroes who fit, bleed and died at the battle of Bunker Hill, of whom I am one." Drank standing.

The happiest man in the world is the one with just wealth enough to keep him in spirits, and just children enough to make him industrious.

Difficult to Turn.—Kirwan says that a pious Scotchman used to pray: "O Lord, keep me right: for thou knowest if I go wrong, it is very hard to turn me."

A North Carolina editor acknowledging the receipt of a bottle of brandy, forty-three years old, says: "This brandy is so very old that we very much fear that it cannot live much longer.

"Whose pigs are those, my lad?" "Whoy, they belong to that big sow." "No! I mean who is their master?" "Whoy, that little 'un there: he's a rare 'un to fight."

All men have their frailties. Whoever looks for a friend without imperfections will never find what he seeks; we love ourselves with all our faults, and we ought to love our friends in like manner.

Columbus, Kentucky, is a hard place—An old farmer, who had been badly swindled there, said of it: "If the Angel Gabriel happened to light at Columbus, there'll be no resurrection, for they'll swindle him out of his trumpet before he can make a sing'e toot.

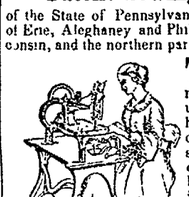
B. RANDALL,
PROPRIETOR OF
I. M. SINGER'S
Patent Sewing Machine,

of the State of Pennsylvania (except the counties of Erie, Alleghaney and Philadelphia) State of Wisconsin, and the northern part of Indiana.



THE world wide reputation of these machines renders puffing unnecessary. All who have used Singer's Machines testify to their superior merits over all others. Over 12 000 have been sold and are now in active operation, and not one has proved a failure! By simply changing the needle and thread the same machine will execute perfectly every variety of work, coarse or fine, on cloth or leather. From $200 to $500 a year can be cleared by an individual using this machine more than can be earned by hand.

Singer has also brought out a new highly ornamented, which for beauty and expedition far surpasses all other Family Machines. These machines use two threads, forming a lock stitch is the centre of the goods sewed, and making a perfect back stitch on both sides of the cloth, which makes a seam much stronger and harder to rip than hand sewing, and does not use more than two thirds as much thread as the chain stitch machine.

These machines are for sale by the undersigned at his office on North Fifth Street, opposite Good's Hotel, Reading Pennsylvania;

Also by T. E. EVANSON, Traveling Agent for Iowa Silk Needles, Oil, and Thread for sale by T. E. EVANSON, WHITE GOODS.

A full and complete assortment.

Large stock of EMBROIDERIES of all the new patterns A good assortment of

HOSIERY & GLOVES,

And a large assortment of all other Goods usually kept in a Dry Goods Store, too numerous to mention.

All the above Goods were bought under unusually favorable circumstances, just after the recent rush in the Wall Street Banks and the consequent depreciation in the money market, and the hooked for failure of the Importers and Jobbing Houses obliged them to sell to cash customers, we availed ourselves of these great bargains, and willing to give our customers the benefit of them, we would invite all the Ladies and the balance of mankind, for we have the goods and are bound to sell them. Bring along your cash.

Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Nausea, Constipation, Flatulence, Loss of Appetite in any Bilious Complaints arising from a maladjustment of the Stomach or Bowels, producing Cramps, Dysentery, Colic, Cholera Morbus, &c. &c.

All of these ills yield like magic toits vilifying influence upon the system, and for a person in advanced years, of recovering from sickness of any kind, nothing can be more conducive to their convalescence than the use of these Bitters as per directions on the bottles.

Scarcely four years have elapsed since the first introduction of "Dr. J Hostetter's Celebrated Stomach Bitters" to the public, and such has been the success of the article after its tested efficiency by a discriminating public, that during the last year nearly half a million bottles were sold, with a continuous demand in excess of the supply with all the facilities the appointments have been able to command in its preparation.

Are you dyspeptic? Then take these Stomach Bitters.

Are you bilious? Try one bottle of these Bitters, and be relieved at once.

Are you annoyed by indigestion or constipation? Resort to the cause by the free use of these Bitters.

Have you fever and ague? How many thousands in the West and South have been cured of this consuming distressing disease by the free use of these Bitters?

All should try this great Antidote. We venture to affirm that, when Hostetter's Stomach Bitters are used, a case of Fever and Ague cannot occur thereafter, no family concealing their own interest can afford to do without it.

A WORD TO THE LADIES.

Incommunicable is your use Dr. J Hostetter's Celebrated Stomach Bitters. It is but just to state that as a stimulant to the system in imparting strength and vigor, preparatory to confinement, which are of times attended with much pain and trouble, we know of no preparation more happily adapted to all afflictions consequent upon that cause, and for cramps [illegible] children, whether cutting teeth or all ailments arising from over indulgence in fruits, vegetables, ice cream, &c., it is certain and always the immediate remedy, and no family should be without it.

One wineglassful taken three times each before meals, at both the beginning of the patient's case in a weak condition, and increased in proportion to the strength, will be found a great tonic agent, which all will find to operate when personally tried, of the facts, as they will be by giving the Bitters one trial.

HOUSTON.

Care always should be our aim, but more particularly when to health is at stake. Since these Bitters have, from their medicinal qualities, become [illegible] as a sure Bitters we [illegible] to be [illegible] Dr. Hostetter's, pointed upon the public. Beware of [illegible] Our Bitters are put up in square glass bottles, and covered with the patented [illegible] stamped "Hostetter's Stomach Bitters," and Dr. J Hostetter blown on the bottle. All others are imitation.

POETRY.

Maiden Resolution.

"Oh! I'll tell you of a fellow—
Of a fellow I have seen,
Who is neither white nor yellow,
But he's altogether green:
He has told me of a cottage,
Of a cottage 'mong the trees,
And would you think, the fellow
Tumbled down upon his knees!

Then his name isn't charming,
For it is only common "Bill,"
And he wishes me to wed him,
But I hardly think I will;
While the tears the creature wasted
Were enough to turn a mill,
And he begged me to accept him,
But I hardly think I will.

Oh! he whispered of devotion—
Of devotion pure and deep;
But it seemed so very silly,
That I nearly fell asleep!
And he said it would be pleasant,
As we journey down the hill,
To go hand in hand together,
But I hardly think I will.

He was here last night to see me,
And he made so long a stay,
I began to think the blockhead,
Never meant to go away;
At the first I learned to hate him,
And I knew I hate him still,
Yet he urges me to have him,
But I hardly think I will

I'm sure I wouldn't choose him.
But the very deuce is in it,
For he says if I refuse him,
That he couldn't live a minute;
Now this is very shocking,
For we're taught we mustn't kill—
So I've thought the matter over,
And I think I'll marry Bill."

A CONVERSATION AND WHAT CAME OF IT.

BY CLARA SYDNEY.

"Why, in the name of all that's curious, May Benten, have you never got married?"

This question was asked by a gentleman of some thirty five or six years of age, who had been for nearly twenty minutes closely watching the motions of a lady who sat near him at a week table.

The gentleman was a fine, noble looking man with frank, well formed features and pleasant expression. He was handsomely dressed, and to judge by the look of his hair, you might have said that he had a wife, and he looked in other respects like a married man—which he did not.

The room in which the two were sitting betokened wealth and taste. Its occupants were evidently in the upper ranks of life.

The lady addressed was a person of fair, interesting face, and graceful form. She certainly did look remarkably well, as she bent her head with its abundant and shining hair, and plied her white hands in the task which employed her white hands in the task which employed her sight and apparently her whole thoughts.

Popularly a conviction of her attractiveness and worth had caused the question which her companion put in such a hearty, abrupt tone, that may startled and dropped the red worsted work upon which she had been intent.

"What a question, she cried; with a light laugh—just as if I cared about be married!

"Why should you not care May? Surely it is the best and happiest state for a man or woman."

"Granted with a proviso, said May: but Mr. Rossiter, if you think so, why have you never married?"

"You are a true Yankee, May, and answer a question, by asking another; but tell me, now, why you are at thirty years of age, and still single?"

"How dare you say I am thirty years old? Upon my word, if you were brother to my sister in law, I'd not speak to you again for a week."

May pretended to pout; and the poet was quite becoming to her full arched lips.

"Didn't you yourself tell fine your age, and only the day before yesterday? Your memory seems very short Miss Benton"

"Well I didn't expect you were going to throw it up to me that I was an old maid, to pay for my confidence in you."

"O! May—did I say that?—and if I did you can break my glass house' by flinging back my very taunt. But come now, do answer my question."

"I never could get any one to have me, said May, shortly. Are you satisfied?"

"No I am need not tell me that a person so interesting and attractive as you are has never yet had an adorer. I know better May—so tell me truly why you are not Mrs. Somebody now?"

May suddenly sobered down, and said nervously—It's because no man whom love I could return ever loved me."

And she resumed her work.

How her face had altered! There had come over it a stern, hard impression, as if she were saying, inly.

"It matters not—I can wrestle down those yearnings for something worthy and noble and true, and strong against which to lean for something winning, tender, and loving, which to love. If there is no heart on earth whom best love is the love I want, I can do without it—I can walk to the end of life as I have walked thus far."

Rossiter regarded her so long silence. He had known her for many years, and had often wondered at her great indifference to the attention of gentlemen. He had even on more than one occasion, taken her to task for her manner toward them.

"You won't allow them to become acquainted with you at all, said he. When you are introduced to a man that's the last of it. All the young men admire, but they are afraid of you. You chill them to death. I heard one man say that he thought you a beautiful and interesting creature; but then he would as soon undertake to warm into love an iceberg as yourself—even if had courage enough to make the attempt."

A skeptical smile had been the only answer to such questions.

How could May believe that she was capable of inspiring affection in others when those who knew her best were so tightly touched by it.

Rossiter had been for three or four years absent, and had newly returned when Col. Grove's conversation took place. He was a comfortable bachelor, funny in disposition; and happy in a [illegible] home. He was happy in the companionship of May, whom he honestly believed to be [illegible] and most lovely and well informed for a charming lady; and never since he had allowed himself to think of being. And he believed it because he wished to marry. He was well satisfied with his estate and cared not whether he was at home. To be sure he did feel uneasy and discontented all the while he was abroad. Nobody's company seemed to fill the void in his heart. He did miss his sister and May—O! how glad he was to see them when he returned! and how strange he thought it was that May didn't wish at first to be told and hug and kiss him just as his sister did; but he felt full satisfaction of this arbitrary creature when she did come to welcome him.

"And so May isn't married yet, he said; well it's rather too bad; but I am glad of it.

May came very near sighing, but she didn't—at least not audibly. How many still born sighs there are in the world. It is well it is no errand to smother them at their birth.

Well, Rossiter sat studying that still, stern face before him; and he thought new thoughts—new as to their present relations.

"May, he said, at length—May, was ever there a man that you could have loved as he ask [illegible]?"

Like a crimson dye upon the fair brow of that [illegible] and the hand [illegible] was put on the instrument—but she only said, in a cold, [illegible]

"That, you have no right to ask."

"I have no need to ask, dear May. Forgive me, if I mistake—but I feel as if I had been [illegible] by a revelation of—of—that I had been a blind and stupid fellow as ever lived. May, if a man whom you regarded as you do the plain old Fellow before you were to ask for your free will, what would you say?"

"Yes, said May, dropping her head till her face was hid among the worsted."

"Will you have me? cried Rossiter, springing up and oversetting his chair."

"Yes, said a voice from the worsted depths—Rossiter was on his knees, and most fervently embracing chair, worsted, and women."

"Marry me? Will you marry me?" said he.

"Yes," said the voice from amid the worsted.

"Then hold up your head, and let me look upon the face of my wife. St. George May!—I believe I have love you for years."

"And I knew I've loved you almost ever since I knew you, said May, yielding to the gentle force which drew her from her low seat and led her to one where there was room for two."

"And that's why you never cared about any other man's company and attention, my May?"

"Yes, said May, you begin to understand it now."

"O May! my beauty, my dear good girl. Why didn't I think of this before? Why didn't you tell me, May?"

"Tell you! I should have looked well, should'nt I?"

"Indeed, you would have looked well—looked charming in my eyes. What a pity you had not confidence enough in me to have allowed me to guess at the truth before. Why May, I should have married you years ago, and have been the happiest and most grateful fellow alive. How I escaped men can tell!—but come May, we must go and tell my sister. She will be delighted, indeed."

And he led the embarrassed and blushing May into the presence of his sister, and a [illegible] to the great rejoicing; and, in a few weeks from that day, Rossiter and May were no more twain but one flesh. Nobody knows what a month may bring forth—nor to what the simplest question may lead to.

Single and Bach'e Bels in Prussia.—Mr J S Meller, of Utica, United States Consul at Hamburgh, in a letter to the Observer says:

From Bonn, a half hours ride by railroad [illegible] of the royal Prussian palace, the grounds about which are very handsome, although the palace itself is, when compared with the English and French [illegible]. The attendant who showed us the palace, pointed out to us a large double bed, wide enough for three or four, which had been made for Victoria and Prince Albert on the occasion of the Queen's visit some ten years ago, to Prussia. The Prussian style is always made two in the same room, but Victoria would not submit to be so accommodated, and demanded her apartments accommodations. Another double bed is now shown at Bruhl, which the Prince of Prussia, who has just married Victoria's daughter, orders for their accomodation at Coblentz—which is an hour or two by railroad from Bruhl—but which proved too short for his princely accommodation, so that an express train had to be [illegible] to Bruhl to bring them to the Victoria coach.

Affecting Incident.—We are indebted to Mr [illegible] recently returned from a visit to a sister [illegible] age, for the following touching narrative:

On the home voyage of one of our New York and Liverpool packets, the ship being crowded with emigrants, that awful scourge the ship fever broke out. The carpenter of the vessel, one of nature's noblemen, and having on board his little son, a lad of some twelve summers, was one of the first victims. His shipmates rudely inclosed his body in his hammock, and having read over him the burial services, and attached to his feet a grind-stone, for the purpose of sinking it, committed it to the embrace of old ocean. The poor boy, filled with grief at the loss of his natural protector, sprang overboard, and before he could be rescued he was beyond the reach of human aid.

On the day following the burial, a large shark was noticed in the wake of the ship, and as it was almost calm, the sailors asked permission to catch it, which was readily granted by the captain. Having procured a hook and attached a chain and line and baited it with pork, they cast it overboard, and soon had the excited pleasure of hooking the monster, and with the aid of the windlass, they hauled the writhing mass on board. As it lay on the deck in its death struggles, the sailors heard a singular rumbling noise, that seemed to proceed from within the dying captive. Taking a chisle, they soon cut their way into the now dead fish, and, to their great surprise, found that it had swallowed the carpenter, grindstone and boy, and that the former, who had swooned, had rigged up the grindstone, and, with the assistance of the boy to turn it, was just grinding his jackknife to cut his way out.

Slightly Improving in Honesty.—A few days since the Republican papers all declared that the expenses of the Government for the fiscal year ending the 1st of July, 1858, were $100,000,000. By a dint of persuasion and argument they were at last convinced that it was proper to deduct from this sum the $20,000,000 loan authorized by Congress in June, to meet a deficiency expected to arise in the year ending July 1st 1859, not a dollar of which has been expended in the year which closed the 1st of this month. Deducting this $20,000,000 they have claim and publish taxable to show that $81,000,000 were expended in the last fiscal year. This is nearer right, but it is far from being correct. They still charge in this $81,000,000 to Mr. Buchanan's account or $15,000,000 of debts which was contracted by the Republican Congress before he was elected, and also some millions of Treasury notes that are now on hand. They must deduct these and then the expenses will be about $60,000,000 which is the average they have been for some years.—Cin Enq

The Secret—Old Squire J——— of Addison County, Vt., was famous for bringing to market a better article of cheese than one of his neighbors. And neighbor ——, which we [illegible] a most excellent cheese, knew it happened? "I think I can tell you the secret of it," said the Squire "[illegible] each [illegible] it is a curse with the poor child. Every [illegible] has imbued that white cow milk stands for [illegible] in the pans, there's a kind [illegible] that [illegible] on the cheese." Now some women are so deceitful as that they claim this all for [illegible] but [illegible] I think the cheese is all the better for it."

☞ All the appearances in the fine counties of Europe indicate to that the present season will be an unusually favorable one for the wine makers. The almost universal failure of the [illegible] present season to be, for the first time in a series of [illegible] years free from [illegible] has [illegible] [illegible] of good grapes in which the quality has been made unusually good by the hot weather and the absence of rain. In France, the wine crop [illegible] to be the largest ever seen, and the people are anticipating great things of it, especially as the long drouth in France it is said that 'wine will be cheap, [illegible] than water' there.

*Horse for——*Francis F. Blair, jr., the Missouri Emancipation candidate of the Republicans of St. Louis, who was beaten on the 3d of August by Barrett, (Democrat) holds half a dozen negroes as slaves, which he works and hires out, as suits his convenience. This Blair is a good specimen of the hypocrisy of Republicanism, which talks philanthropy and practices tyranny and oppression. These fellows grind the poor white man to the duty—taking his strength and sweat, for the smallest pittance, while all their loans and gains are reserved for the negro race. Will such as are ever [illegible] to black for their own [illegible] Cincinnati Times Union.

How to get rid of a Husband.—Thich [illegible] Elliott—in Indiana—in France—no state of [illegible] where husbands can of the notion [illegible] from the tree they naturally wished to be [illegible] flower again. In uniting themselves of their husbands, the French ladies can have no recourse in the laws, their only chance and hope is in their tact. For instance Madame X——— is a fashionable woman of thirty; a woman of the world, but irreproachable hitherto, in her conduct; wealthy and wedded, and abundantly worth loving. But, to her highest happiness, (of which she hopes to have the harvest hereafter,) her husband is, take him all in all, a promising obstacle. Not long since, Madame X——— announced the commission of a very extraordinary little impropriety. She first went to the theatre in the evening, all alone. After the play she came out, without an attendant; and though it was midnight, desire to one of the most public restaurants of the Boulevard. With her veil down she stepped up to the counter and inquired whether there was any set of young men, just then at supper?

Surprised at such a question from a lady of so very distinguished and modest an exterior, the proprietor replied in the affirmative—pointing to a door leading to a private saloon, where a coven—"just boys," were just seated around the table for a midnight carouse. Madame opened the door and walked in; filled her veil, and smiled, a most charming "good evening" to the astonish ing youths, requesting the liberty to make one of their number.

The request was at once acceded to, of course and the fair stranger seated herself between two young men, both very blond and amiable. The liberty for her attention between all the gentlemen at the table, was exceedingly lively. She ate her supper very heartily and honestly, conversed very gayly, and finally, at two in the morning, she called for the waiter, paid her share of the supper and retired.

With all her liveliness and grace, the mysterious lady's behavior had been so positively unexceptionable and ladylike, that no one had ventured upon any familiarity.

The explanation of this riddle is that Madame X——— is getting up "appearances," which should provoke her husband to a quarrel and a separation—to end by future aggravation in a divorce! She is not quite thirty years of age, beautiful in figure and features, and has been irreproachable hitherto in her character and conduct. But her husband is wholly unworthy of her, and their life together is a misery. By [illegible] his pride, by arousing his suspicions she trusts to provoke him to seek a legal separation!

Absurd for the obstacles to her wishes. It is the link of gold that binds them! Sin has destroyed—holy misfortune of being so rich, in her own right, that he cannot afford to be offended with her! With her spoil his pride will slumber, and she probably, will fail in her enterprise.

A Love Tragedy in India.—A family in Belgravia pays the Court Circular has lately plunged into great grief from melancholy and most singular circumstances. When Sir Colin Campbell left England many hearts accompanied him, among whom was the eldest son of a reverend prelate high in the church. This young gentleman left a lady behind him to whom he was passionately attached and had promised to marry. Her fortune being small, the clerical dignitary threatened to disinherit his son if he did, and to alienate his affections from the party in question, he was sent to India. His father charged him at his departure never to think of her more if he wished to be remembered by him. The lover [illegible] to India in the discharge of his duties, but his heart beat with undiminished affection. He could not avoid communicating his constancy, and writing to his beloved assuring her that no threats or anger of his unfeeling parent should ever banish the tender recollection of their reciprocal passion. Having occasion at the same time to write to his father for additional supplies, he demanded them on the ground that he renounced his mistress. By a most unfortunate accident the two came to England unchecked—the one intended for the parent falling into the hands of the lady, and that intended for the lady into those of the parent. The latter on receipt of his epistle, sent back such an indignant answer as fully awakened the son to the consequences of the fatal mistake he had made in the direction of the letters. Fully alive to the finest sensibilities, and not able to combat a feeling of shame for the unintentional error he had committed, shot himself.

Collapse of the Anti-Slavery Agitation.—The defeat of Blair for Congress, in Missouri, indicates a remarkable collapse in the anti slavery agitation. It is but the beginning of the end. Kansas is done for: and the same wholesome, conservative, general reaction which culminated in the election of 1852, is now beginning to work against the nigger agitators. The Seward Republican party are in shoal water, and the chances now are, that before December next they will be hard aground. The defeat of Blair, in St. Louis, shows that Kansas shrieking has ceased to pay expenses. That St Louis election is one of the most significant and important manifestations of a new political organization.—New York Herald.

Read what follows, parents—ponder it well, and do not be caught in the same snare:

You have a little boy—he may be four years old—you think there is no time to be lost, and you send him to school. There he is confined for hours, and compelled to sit upon a hard bench and look upon a book. He hears the voices of children playing without—he half rises to look from the window—a rap upon the teacher's desk recalls him to his seat upon the bench—a glance shows him the like, smiling in the air, to the delight of its happy little proprietor; the poor child is almost involuntarily upon his feet again, another rap, and he again drops into his seat upon the bench. Day after day, week after week, month after month the little fellow returns to his prison, and sits upon his bench.

At length he becomes pale and languid, loses his appetite, gets restless at night, has a cough, and loses his flesh and spirits. Ought he not to be taken from the bench? The consequence of this would be terrible—he would see his mistake that schools! So he continues to sit upon the bench. After a few weeks more he is brought home. He had failed as he sat upon the bench. Matters begin to wear a serious aspect. The doctor is called—powerful arts from every [illegible] are brought into play to save the child from the grave. It is now half that the disappearance and death of the youth, was the invention of the Roman Nobility for the purpose of procuring the hanging of the two men who was arrested on suspicion of having murdered him.

Infanticide West & S—Of the children three in number, of Dr. Julien Henry who died in St. Louis about 20 years ago. Dr. Henry, moved to Pennsylvania to St. Louis. His children [illegible] of James Henry, who died some years since. The estate is very valuable, and is located in and about detroit.

☞ A daughter of Henry S. Wooder, of Mount Healy, Indiana, eight years of age, died by hydrophobia last week. She had been bitten by a cat. Three hours before her death she said she had been visited by the spirit of her deceased sister, who told her that certain remedies would relieve her and make her death easy. The articles were procured and administered, and there was no return of the spasms, but she died conscious, calmly and free from pain, and died quietly.

☞ The Cincinnati Commercial says that counterfeit bills on the State Bank of Ohio, phe—impregnated, are circulating freely in that city.—They are well calculated to deceive even good judges of money. The cigarette, however, is imperfect.

☞ The newly elected police at New Orleans went into office on the 1st of July, and the number of arrests for the eighteen days of the month amounted to one thousand two hundred and [illegible] men!

The Democratic Party is Neither a Pro-Slavery nor an Anti-Slavery Party.

That no one visible party needs to defence against the attempts of speculators in philanthrophy to characterize it as a pro slavery party, except to point to its creed as adopted by its representative bodies and its prime plea as embodied in its leading measures, which assume the form of party issues. As a national party it has no creed on the subject of slavery, except that its existence shall be left entirely to the action of the people of each State and Territory. It is neither for nor against slavery. It might just as truly be called an anti slavery as a pro slavery party. It is neither, in its national organization and relations. It insists that New York and South Carolina shall each determine for itself whether it will tolerate domestic slavery within its own limits. It applies the same doctrines to Kansas, Nebraska and Oregon. Its members, as citizens of their respective States and Territories, sit house and in their own locality, and in reference to their local institutions, are anti slavery or pro slavery men, as they prefer. Their antagonistic positions on the subject of slavery in their own vicinage present no obstacle whatever to their harmonious association in a great national party, which has no

SATURDAY, AUGUST 21, 1858.

Speeches.—Col McClure, and W A Peelle, candidates for Secretary of State, addressed our citizens last Saturday evening. Mr Peelle opened the discussion. His speech was a mere rehash of the trash we have been afflicted with for the past three years about bleeding Kansas and Lecompton frauds. He dwelt long and labored hard on this subject, but we could not discover anything new, or that had not already been much better said, on the question. He denounced the democratic leaders as corrupt, and charged the administration with extravagance, but failed to bring forward any proof or make any specifications of the extravagance which he alleged the democrats had been guilty of. On the whole it was about as poor an effort as we have ever listened to.

Col McClure's reply was a masterly vindication of the democratic policy in regard to Kansas, and the rights of the inhabitants of territories to manage their own affairs in their own way, without congressional or other outside interference. The charges of his antagonist were boldly met, and triumphantly refuted. The outcry about extravagance was shown to be unfounded, and moreover if true, the republicans were answerable for them, as all the appropriations were sustained by that party, and many of the items would be found to meet deficiencies in the expenditures made by the previous Congress when the opposition were in the majority. It was throughout an excellent speech, and we regret our limits prevent our doing more ample justice to it.

The Great Event of the Age!—The submarine telegraph, uniting Europe and the American continent is at length completed, and congratulatory messages have been sent over it from Queen Victoria to President Buchanan, and from the President to the Queen. The particulars will be found in another column. This is a wonderful achievement of science, and truly the great event of the nineteenth century. The effect it will have on the commercial, diplomatic, and social intercourse between Great Britain and America is almost beyond conception; and should it be found to work without interruption and fulfil the expectations of its sanguine friends it will indeed be a most glorious and valuable institution.

The great event has been most enthusiastically celebrated in New York, Boston, Philadelphia, Chicago, and in short throughout the entire country. Firing of cannon, illuminations, bonfires, speeches, processions &c &c. have been the order of the day, and the most exuberant joy has been manifested throughout the length and breadth of the land, as the happy consummation of this stupendous project.

Wisconsin Money.—On Wednesday morning a dispatch reached here that the Chicago Banks refused to receive the notes of some 25 of the Wisconsin Banks. This caused quite an excitement, as a large amount of Wisconsin money is in circulation here. the report was these banks had failed, and as a necessary consequence all Wisconsin money was immediately refused, and it was looked upon as doubtful if not worthless. The panic appears to have been groundless, and the whole affair turns out to have been an ingenious piece of rascality on the part of Chicago shavers to plunder the holders of that kind of currency, and buy it up at a heavy discount. The notes of all the Wisconsin banks are amply secured by good state stocks, and are doubtless as good as any other paper currency.

These periodical plunderings of the public, through paper money and panics, naturally beget distrust in our present banking system, and are strong arguments in favor of the democratic hard money doctrine That is the only safe currency, and the one which can never fail or depreciate in value.

We copy a couple of paragraphs from the Chicago Press & Tribune, of Tuesday which show how the panic was got up, and how little grounds there were for it.

> There was some ill-to feeling in the street yesterday in consequence of the throwing out by our leading bankers of a large number of Wisconsin banks.
> Most, if not all of the leading railroads agreed this morning to take the bills of these banks in their ordinary business. Holders should remember that these banks are not broken. They are secured by State stocks, and are good for nearly, if not quite, the face of them. Let no sacrifice upon them for the present. If the leading banks will not take them, the brokers will, even for a price on them, and when they do we think at once advise our readers of the terms fixed. We learn that dispatches were received in the city yesterday from Madison, stating that arrangements were making by most of the banks to redeem in that city, and if they are protected, their bills will be par at once. We are quite sure at the worst that the bills will not depreciate below five or ten per cent.

Wisconsin Money.—The money brokers who took advantage yesterday of the public alarm, created by throwing out the notes of certain Wisconsin banks, by buying at three bankers of the city, reaped quite a harvest. Many of the bills were sold as low as eighty cents, while large amounts were exchanged for gold at eighty-five to ninety. This is all unnecessary and foolish, and many of those who have submitted this unmerciful shave will regret their haste before the week [illegible] notes, though not as good as coin, are well secured by interest paying State stocks and will in other respects compare favorably with much of the Illinois currency in good credit. Without doubt it is all bad enough, but in times like these it is folly to make bad worse by groundless and absurd alarm.

P. S. Since the above was written we learn that there may be grounds for suspecting the solvency of some of the Wisconsin banks. They are said to be mere wild cats, located in inaccessible places, having no capital, and secured only by worthless railroad securities, instead of state stocks. If this be so, their notes are not of much value A movement is on foot on the part of the sound banks to have all notes redeemed at Madison or Milwaukee All the Wisconsin banks which come into this arrangement may be looked upon as sound—those which do not, it would be as well to avoid. A few days will probably decide the matter, and separate the sheep from the goats.

The Baird District.—The notorious Dave Kilgore has been renominated for Congress by the republicans of the 5th district. He is rather an old representative of the staid, old sheddingly quaker portion of his constituents, and his nomination is anything but satisfactory to the friends of Julian, Morton Holloway, and other aspirants for Congressional honors. There will be fun in the burnt district before the election is over.

Hon. Tom Corwin was nominated on Monday last, by the Republican Convention of the 7th Congressional District in Ohio, as their candidate for Congress. Tom is a good stumper and an able man, and will be hard to beat. In his speeches he does not endorse the views of the more ultra of his Republican brethren.

Huntington and Whitley Districts Convention.—The democratic district convention for Huntington and Whitley counties was held at Springfield on Saturday last. James R Slack Esq. of Huntington was nominated for the Senate, and J B Firestone for Representative. Both are good democrats, deservedly popular with their fellow citizens, and we have strong hopes will be elected. The district it is true, is rather close, but if the democrats do their duty faithfully and bring out their full strength to the polls, victory will perch on their banners.

Grand Celebration at Ft. Wayne!

Last night, according to arrangements made by our Common Council, a grand celebration and jubilee, in honor of the success of the Atlantic telegraph, was had in our city. A salute of one hundred guns was fired; all the church bells were rung; flags and streamers were stretched across the streets; most of the stores were illuminated: bonfires threw out their ruddy gleams in every direction; and the whole city seemed wrapped in a blaze of light. The two fire companies and a large mass of citizens formed a magnificent torch light procession, and promenaded our principal streets, accompanied by martial music and two brass bands; after which the immense concourse assembled in the public square, where, after a fervent and appropriate prayer by Rev Mr Lowrie, speeches were made by H McCulloch R E Fleming Revs Lowrie and Curtis, W S Smith, and others. A general feeling of gladness and enthusiasm seemed to pervade all classes, and the entire celebration was admirably conducted throughout. It was by far the best and most spirited demonstration ever got up in our city, and will long be remembered by our citizens in connection with the great event it was intended to commemorate

☞ The number of children within the limits of the city, between the ages of 5 and 20 years, in the enumeration for school purposes, is 2393; viz 1155 males, and 1263 females. This is an increase of nearly two hundred over last year's enumeration.

Specie in New York.—There is now in the banks and the sub-treasury in New York, $14,037,289 in specie. At the same time last year the amount was $23,633,453. Increase $9,596,836.

Dead—Mr. Sampson Douglass, who had his leg cut off by a mowing machine on the farm of Mr. McCormick, in Aboite township, about two weeks ago, died on Saturday last.

Toledo, Wabash, & Western Railroad.—The Toledo Blade says:—

> "No road in the country is doing a more prosperous business at this time than the Toledo, Wabash & Western The freight business upon it has been steadily on the increase since it was opened, and there is every reason to believe that the most sanguine expectations of its projectors will be fully realized. The earnings of the first week in August are $19,565 42, which is a large increase over the business of last year.
> We are assured that within a few weeks past the passenger business has doubled."

A Swindle. The State Sentinel cautions the public against receiving notes purporting to be issued by the Western Exchange Bank at Indianapolis, G. S Hamer, Cashier. The is no such bank authorized by law, and the whole affair is a swindle.

Scientific American.—Two numbers more will complete the present volume of this truly valuable and widely appreciated scientific journal. The new volume will commence on the 11th September. Every mechanic and scientific man who does not already take the Scientific American, should send in his name and commence with the new volume—the money could not be better invested; and the se who do take it, must renew their subscriptions. Terms only $2.00 per annum. A club of 10 will be furnished for $15.00 —only $1.50 per annum each. This is certainly cheap enough, when the intrinsic value and high character of this paper are taken into consideration. Who will get up a club?

Piano Forte Tuning and Repairing.

Mr. J B. Ramen, of Louisville, Ky., comes to us highly recommended by Professors Moore, of Louisville, and Heitz, formerly of this city, as a tuner and repairer of Piano Fortes. We would advise those who wish their Pianos put in first-rate order to give him a call. He will remain but a few days. Orders left at the store of Mr. J. A. Colerick, corner of Clinton and Columbia Sts. will meet with prompt attention. His charges are very moderate.

Stage Line to Wolf Lake and Wawaka.—We direct attention to the advertisement of M Glynn's line of U S mail stages for the above points. Persons travelling in that direction will find this a very safe, comfortable and cheap mode of conveyance Mr G also keeps an extensive livery stable, and is prepared to furnish horses and carriages to any part of the Union on the shortest notice and most favorable terms.

A Gentle Rebuke.—The Chicago Times publishes what it calls an extract from an official letter by I. Cook, postmaster of that fair city, in which he recommends administration democrats to vote for republicans in preference to Douglas-men! The Chicago Herald denies the charge and gently pitches into the Times as follows:

> The Times Forgery.—The Times of yesterday contains contained an extract, purporting to be taken from a letter written by Mr Cook to some person unknown, urging the National Democrats to support the Republican ticket wherever they were not strong enough to run one of their own. The charge originated with the Quincy Herald, edited by one of the most unprincipled scoundrels that ever disgraced the public press. It has already in the columns of this paper, been denounced as a pure manufactured forgery the perpetrator of which is as morally criminal and felonious as though it had been a forged receipt or draft. The editor of the Times knew it to be a forgery at the time he published it, and was guilty of a cowardly, contemptible falsehood, when he asserted its authenticity. When Mr Sheahan states that he can produce the original letter written by Mr Cook, containing the language of that extract, he simply and plainly lies—lies in his teeth—lies in his heart—lies from the sole of his foot to the crown of his head—and we so deliberately brand him, editorially and individually. We defy Mr Sheahan to produce such a letter, or one in the slightest degree resembling it. Produce the letter, Mr Sheahan, or submit to be publicly posted as a brazen, unprincipled ragabond.

Messages of Queen Victoria and President Buchanan

New York, August 15.

The following message from Mr DeSterdy, one of the assistant electricians of the Atlantic Telegraph Company, has been received:

To the Directors of the Atlantic Telegraph.

Trinity Bay, August 11.

The cause of not transmitting and receiving intelligence through the cable is, that the instruments require a great deal of care and adjusting I am doing this as fast as possible. You should not look upon the cable as an ordinary, short telegraph line that can be worked through directly. The cable has been successfully laid, and telegraphic signals have passed through it at pleasure, but we have encountered many little difficulties which require time, and which only many experiments can correctly overcome. I see no reason to doubt that we shall be able, within a few days, to surmount all difficulties. I will send the earliest intimation of the probable time that the Queen's message may be expected.

DESTANTY.

In addition to the above a private despatch has been received from a reliable gentleman at St John's, who is in a position to obtain the earliest and most correct unofficial intelligence concerning the operations, in which he says that common rumors from the office at Valentia Bay have been received, but from some unexplained cause it has been impossible to send that or any other intelligence to the operators at Valentia. This state of things often occur upon long lines; offices can receive correctly from a different operator and yet be unable to send a word, and the difficulty is, sooner or later, found to be in the battery, its connections or in the instruments; and there is no reason to doubt that the present difficulty in working the cable, as soon as the electricians can compare notes, will be entirely overcome.

New York, August 16.

Information has been received that the cable is all right at both ends, and that the Queen's Message will probably be received this evening.

Immediately on the announcement of the Queen's Message being received over the Atlantic cable, the bells of Old Trinity Church struck up a merry peal. The public building was decorated with flags and salutes were fired, according to previous arrangements

The greatest enthusiasm everywhere prevails at the joyful intelligence of the telegraphic union of Europe and America.

The Queen's Message.

Valentia Bay, via Trinity Bay

To the Honorable the President of the U. S.—Her Majesty desires to congratulate the President upon the successful completion of the great International work, in which the Queen has taken the deepest interest. The Queen is convinced that the President will join in her fervent hopeing that the Electric Cable which now connects Great Britian with the United States, will prove an additional link between the nations whose friendship is founded upon their common interest and reciprocal esteem. The Queen has much pleasure in thus communicating to the President and renewing to him their wishes for the prasperity of the United States.

The President's Reply.

Washington, Aug. 16.

To Her Majesty Victoria, Queen of Great Britain and Ireland.—The President cordially reciprocates the congratulations of Her Majesty the Queen, on the success of the great international enterprise, accomplished by the science, skill, and indomitable energy of the two countries. It is a triumph more glorious because far more useful to mankind than was ever won by a conqueror on the field of battle. May the Atlantic Cable, under the blessing of Heaven, prove to be a bond of perpetual peace and friendship between the kindred nations, and an instrument destined by Divine Providence to diffuse religion, civilization liberty and law through out the world.

In this view will not all nations of Christendom spontaneously unite in the declaration that it shall be forever neutral, and that its communications shall be held sacred in the passage to their places of destination, even in the midst of hostilities, Signed, JAS BUCHANAN.

Cyrus Station, N. F., August 16 1858.

To the Directors of the Atlantic Telegraph Company, New York.—Europe and America are united by Telegraph—Glory to God in the Highest, on Earth Peace, Good will towards men.

Directors of Atlantic Telegraph Company, Great Britain.

Washington, Aug 16.

The intelligence of the reception of the Queen's message rapidly spread throughout the city, and this evidence of the successful working of the telegraph cable, occasioned much rejoicing. In some quarters, however, its authenticity was doubted, until a dispatch from the General Agent of the Associated Press removed all doubt The first intimation on the subject to the President was communicated though Senator Bigler from information obtained from Washington from the Associated Press agency, when the President returned to the city from the "Soldier's Home," and received at the White House the message from Her Majesty Queen Victoria He then prepared a suitable reply. The Queen's Message was received by the President with some doubts as to its authenticity, but the matter was relieved of all doubts by the following message, from the Superintendent of the Newfoundland line.

Trinity Bay, Aug. 16th—The message to the President, purporting to be from the Queen actually came over the Atlantic Cable from Valencia.

New York, Aug. 17.

A salute of 100 guns will be fired to day; this evening every public building will be illuminated and numerous bonfires will be lighted in various parts of the city, and many private building will be illuminated. Should the Niagara arrive salutes will be fired in honor of her The grand celebration depends upon the day to be fixed by the authorities of London and throughout the world.

The following message was sent to day by Mayor Tieman to the Lord Mayor of London; I congratulate your Lordship on the successful laying of the Atlantic Cable, uniting the Continents of Europe and America, and the cities of London and New York—the work of Great Britain and the United States—the triumph of science and energy ever-pace, thus uniting more closely the bonds of peace and commercial prosperity introducing an era into the world's history pregnant with results beyond the conception of finite man. To God be all the praises.

Signed, D. F THEMANN,
Mayor of N. Y. City.

New York, Aug. 18.

The Atlantic Cable.—Mr. Field states that he has not least doubt of the cable being an entire success. By the Niagara off the bar, outward bound, he wrote to the directors of the Atlantic Telegraph Company of Great Britain recommending them to prepare another cable at once as it was evident that the present one which in a short time may transmit messages as rapidly as an air line will not be sufficient for business; Until the first of September, the line will be closed to all messages excepting those form the Governments of Great Britain and the United States

New York, Aug 19.

The joint committee on the Cable celebration had a meeting to day and fired upon the 1st of September for a grand celebration. It was also decided to send a dispatch to the Lord Mayor and Common Council of London informing them of the fact. The British born people of this city intend to have a special celebration of the event, and a meeting was held to day to take the initiative in the matter.

The Terminus of the Atlantic Cable and Surrounding Scenery.—All who have visited Trinity Bay, Newfoundland, with one consent allow it to be one of the most beautiful sheets of water they ever set eyes upon. Its color is very peculiar—an inexpressible mingling of the pure blue ocean with the deep evergreen woodlands, and the serene blue sky. Its extreme length is about eighty miles, its breadth about thirty miles, opening boldly into the Atlantic on the northern side of the island. At its southwestern shore it branches into the Bay of Bull's Arm, which is a quiet, safe and beautiful harbor about two miles in breadth, and nine or ten in length, running in a direction north west The depth of water is sufficient for the largest vessels. The tide rises seven or eight feet, and the bay terminates in a beautiful sand beach. The shore is clothed with dark green fir trees, which, mixed with birch and mountain ash, present a pleasing contrast.

Tenth District.—At the Congressional Convention for this district, held on Friday last, the 13th inst, at Kendallville, Hon Reuben J. Dawson was, by acclamation, nominated as the Democratic candidate for Congress, Judge Dawson is a gentleman of decided ability, of great energy of character, accurately informed upon the political issues of the day, and sound in his political faith As the election two years ago, Hon Jno Beart Lowry by 710 majority. While this is a large majority to overcome, we believe that Judge Dawson, by a vigorous canvass, can and will pluck it. There was never a better state of feeling among the Democracy of the Tenth District than now, and a strong disposition is manifested by the Democrats who left us two years ago upon the Kansas issue, to return to their old party associations as their wisest and best policy. Now by which they can do the most for the welfare of their country and the progress of its institutions. We confidently expect the Democracy of the Tenth will elect Judge Dawson, who will prove a worthy champion of their cause and an able representative of their principles, which they can if they will but put forth the necessary effort.—Saint Scatinel

Parliament was prorogued by commission on the 2nd. Her Majesty's message says the session has been productive of many important measures. Her Majesty looks with confidence to the preservation of general peace, and trusts that the labors of the Paris Conference may lead to a satisfactory solution of the questions referred to them. She alluded to the gallantry and orderliness of the troops in India and hopes that these efforts have already so far been crowned with success that the result may be speedily supposed. She has given willing to consent to the bills transferring the government of India to her direct authority, and hopes by a just and impartial administration of the law to secure its advantages to her race and creed. The Queen thanks the commissioners for the judicious liberality with which they have provided for the exigencies in the public service The rest of the message is devoted to local matters. Parliament was then prorogued until Oct. 19th.

The Queen's message is attacked by the Times in severe terms, which express unaffected thankfulness that Her Majesty's lips had not been insulted with its utterance.

Arrival of the Steamship Arabia.

St Johns, August 16.

The Royal mail steamship Europa bound for Liverpool, came in collision, on Sunday evening, with the Royal mail steamship Arabia, from Liverpool, bound to New York. The Arabia mistook the Europa's light for the Cape Race lights.

The Europa arrived here to day, having lost her cut water and stem, and otherwise damaged. She will repair here.

The Arabia lay by the Europa for some time then proceeded on. She was not much damaged.

The dispatches of the Associated Press were not put on board the Europa, but only a few Liverpool papers: hence the following import of dispatch

The advices by the Arabia are to the 7th inst., one week later

Brigham Young is reported to have shut himself up in his residence, under strong guard, fearing assassination.

General Johnston intended to move his encampment and prepare for going into winter quarters.

Col Hoffman still remained at Bridger. The Battalion Volunteers were also at Bridger.

A great battle was reported to have taken place between 700 Pawnees and war parties of Comanches, Cheyennes, and Arrapahoes, in the Big Blue Region, in which four Pawnees were killed and several wounded, and 16 of the allied tribes were killed and many wounded.

Private letters from the army in Utah announce the departure of Col Loring with three companies of third infantry and 100 riflemen, for New Mexico.

Capt Marcy expected to leave shortly for the States.

Governor Cumming in Utah.—Colonel Kane.—Major Bridger, the old mountaineer for whom the fort was named which was destroyed by the Mormons last fall, reached Kansas City on the 7th inst., directly from General Johnston's camp in Utah. He is reported by the Kansas Journal as saying:

The feeling toward Governor Cumming is not very favorable, and it is thought he is influenced in his actions by Brigham Young, endeavoring to operate upon the Mormons through him, thus placing himself in the power of that unscrupulous old scoundrel.

Colonel Kane, of whom so much has been said and written, is a Mormon, baptized at Nauvoo, wearing the endowment robe, and sent out with the blessing of the prophet upon his head, to work for the interests of the Church None of the Gentiles in the Valley have confidence in him whatever. Brigham Young, in a speech the Sunday before Bridger left, expressed great love for the United States, denied having ever done anything except burning the trains last season, and promising to restore the cattle. This is about all the Government will ever receive.

He is not the first, or the third, who has charged Governor Cumming with being under the influence of Brigham—and by this time, we have no doubt, the Government at Washington has been legitimately advised of the facts in the case. We have good reason for making this declaration.

Baltimore, August 16.

The New York railroad companies, persisting in their ruinous reduction of rates to Cincinnati, and the regions more legitimately connected with Baltimore, the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company has recently made a decided retaliatory strike by reducing the rates of freight between New York, Cleveland, Chicago and the lake country, to thirty cents per hundred pounds less than by the Erie and New York Central roads, to first and second class goods. With the present immense equipment and good condition of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, aided by its connections, this additional trade can readily be accommodated.

The new President of the Pittsburgh Fort Wayne & Chicago Railway Company.—We noticed last week the appointment of Mr. Edgar Thompson, to this important post, in place of Mr. T W Cass, resigned. Mr. Cass tendered his resignation, to take effect on the 1st of Aug. It was accepted to take effect so soon as Mr T was prepared to assume his new duties, which will be during August, probably. Mr. Thompson will soon be at the head of the longest railway line in operation. The Pennsylvania Railway, of which he it now President, and the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne, and Chicago Railway, of which he is President elect, together constitute 815 miles of Railway, extending on the most direct practicable route from Philadelphia to Chicago. And have together cost near $15,000,000 The Tribune pays a well deserved compliment to Mr. Thompson's services in railway construction and management of the great line of which he is now at the head It says: While the organization and financial affairs of the two companies will, with the exception of the Presidency, be as heretofore distinct, the interchange of cars for the selection of Mr. Thompson as head of both roads were ample, as well as his own high character and experience as a railroad manager, as in the fact that the Pennsylvania Railway Company, is the largest stockholder and holds a border in the Pitts. Fort Wayne and Chicago Road, and as its naturally, is most deeply interested in its success. Mr Thompson entered into the service of the Pennsylvania Co as its Chief Engineer, on the organization of the engineer Department of that road in 1847, having previously established a high reputation as Chief Engineer and Superintendent of the Georgia Road. The Pennsylvania Railroad was located and constructed under his supervision. The character of the work to be done called for the highest order of engineering ability. In February, 1852, Mr. Thompson was elected President of the Pennsylvania Company, and has since administered its affairs with eminent success In thorough, practical knowledge of railroad affairs in every department, the trait of long experience and in administrative ability, he has few equals among Railroad men in this country, and upon few men could so great a burden as he is about to assume rest with more certainty that it will be borne with honor to himself and satisfaction to the public and to the owners of the properties concerned. The work of construction of the unfinished part of the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne and Chicago Road west of Plymouth, is in rapid progress, and the grading and track laying so far advanced as to insure the opening of the road to Chicago by the 1st of November next. At the same time that the line is open from Chicago to Pittsburgh, it will also, by arrangement with the Cleveland, Columbus, and Cincinnati Railroad Company, be opened as a through line, without change of cars, from Chicago to Cleveland, via Crestline, over a uniform gauge, of which 278 miles are part of the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne and Chicago Road and 75 miles part of the Cleveland, Columbus and Cincinnati Road. When the revival of enterprise shall again set the streams of commerce in motion, the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne and Chicago Road will be in condition to do its share of the traffic due to its position. —Railway Times.

☞ The earnings of the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne & Chicago Rail Road Company for the month of July were $107,949 65, showing a decrease as compared with same month of last year of $11,606 53 being a decrease of 7 3-10 per cent. The expenditures for the same time were $75,802 65, showing a decrease of $32,974 97 from July 1857 or 30 1-3 per cent. and showing an increase in the net earnings of $21,368 44.

Grand Rapids and Indiana Railway.—At the Annual meeting of the Stockholders of this Company, held at the office of the company in Sturgis, Michigan, July 19th, the following persons were elected Directors:

On the 20th the new Board met and reelected all the old officers, to wit: Jos Lemax, Pres; W Aikman, Secretary; R Reed, Treas; J D Cook, Chief Engineer.

The Grand Rapids Eagle states that Mr J Scribner, one of the directors has taken the contract to clear, grub, grade, culvert, bridge, lay the ties, and in all respects make and complete the road bed ready for the iron, twenty miles north of that city, on or before the 15th day of October next year. For his work he is to collect and receive subscriptions, as far as they may go—the company agreeing to pay him the balance from time to time, as the work progresses; and also claiming the right to pay laborers, in case of the neglect of the contractor to do so, and charge the amount so paid as payment on the contract Similar contracts have been made with Messrs. Van Law & Whitney, for the fifteen miles south of Kalkaskaville; the work to be prosecuted forthwith, and completed in six months.

General Harney Ordered to the Pacific.—We learn that General Harney, just arrived in this city from the plains, received orders on Tuesday to report himself immediately at Washington City. This is construed to mean that he will be put in command of the forces now being organized to chastise the Indians in Oregon, and will be ordered to the Pacific coast Gen Harney's reputation as an Indian fighter costs him a great many handships.—St Louis Democrat

Mr. Thos Tigar:

Please to announce JACOB C. BOWSER as an independent candidate for the office of Sheriff of Allen County, at the October election —and oblige pd His Friends

☞ We cannot refrain from calling the attention of our readers to the advertisement in this day's issue of the "Hair Restorative" of Prof O. J. Wood & Co., of St Louis. I will be seen that he has numerous certificates from persons of the highest character, to the merits of the Restorative. From positive knowledge we are able to say that it is in every sense worthy of all praise to be, and we do not need now to enumerate it the special preparation for the head and hair which can so far been destroyed by premature decay. We have seen it arrest Dyspepsia of baldness and restore to the head it's original luxuriance of natural and glossy hair, and when the latter has been prematurely turned with grey, we have seen it like magic restore the colors of youth and health. The distinguished proprietor of this, we might say, miraculous "Restorative" is that it gives to the person who uses it the same head of hair that they were in youth, that acting in strict compliance with the rules of the first and greatest of all books—Nature. No one who has used it will have cause to unite with us in his testimony to its peculiar merit.—[Cov. Ha] People's Friend.

Dr. Roback's Scandinavian Remedies.

The seeds of all disorders are in the blood, and Dr. Roback's Blood Purifier and Pills act specifically on that fluid. They are composed of rare Swedish herbs, and form a sovereign Antidote to the infecting and corrupting principle of disease.—Not only do they cure indigestion, bilious complaints, female weakness, cannabial incompetency, nervous disorders, lung and throat affections, diarrhea, &c., etc., but they cleanse, purify and invigorate every organ, and put the whole animal machinery in such a vigorous condition that it is enabled to resist and throw off the influence of foul air and other sickness. Mexican Mustang Liniment.

Its wonderful effects and consequent popularity—perhaps no article in the history of the Materia Medica ever acquired the same patronage, was subjected to the same number of severe and different tests, and met with so few failures as the Mustang Liniment. It has been justly styled the Panacea for all external Wounds, Cuts, Swellings, Sprains, Bruises, or Eruptions on man or beast. It is quite a medicine of surprising virtue that Physicians are compelled to prescribe it; and from some remarkable cures of Cancer and Dreadful Rheumatic cures it has naturally attracted much attention from the first scientific minds of the age. No family can afford to be without a bottle of the MUSTANG LINAMENT in the house. Beware of imitations. The genuine Mustang is sold by all respectable dealers throughout the world. Beware of any other "Bragg's Liniment." It is a base imitation.

THE GREATEST MEDICAL DISCOVERY Of the Age.

Mr. KENNEDY, of Roxbury, has discovered in one of our common Pasture Weeds, a remedy that cures

Every Kind of Humor.

The worst Scrofula down to a common Pimple

He has tried it in over eleven hundred cases and never failed except in two cases (both thunder humors). He has now in his possession over one hundred certificates of cures, all within twenty miles of Boston. TWO bottles are warranted to cure a running scrofula sore mouth.

One to three bottles will cure the worst kind of pimples on the face.

Two or three bottles will clear the system of biles.

Three bottles are warranted to cure the worst case of Erysipelas.

Three or five Bottles are warranted to cure the worst kind of Rheumatism.

One or two bottles are warranted to cure all humor in the eyes.

Two bottles are warranted to cure running of the ears and blotches among the hair.

Four to six bottles are warranted to cure corrupt and running ulcers.

One bottle will cure scaly eruptions of the skin.

Two or three bottles are warranted to cure the worst kind of ringworms.

Two or three bottles are warranted to cure the most desperate case of rheumatism.

Three to eight bottles will cure the worst case of scrofula.

Five to eight bottles will cure the worst case of salt rheum.

A tablespoonful per day will prevent chills and fever.

A spoonful is all we ever experienced for a sick headache, and a perfect cure is warranted when the above quantity is taken.

ROXBURY, MASS.

DEAR MADAM,—The reputation of the Medical Discovery in curing all kinds of humors, is so well established by the unanimous voice of all who have ever used it, that I need not say anything on the subject, as the most skilful physicians and the most eminent Druggists in the country are unanimous in its favor.

In presenting the Medical Discovery to your notice I do it with a full knowledge of its curative powers, in effecting all, and curing most of the diseases to which you are unfortunately so liable. That most excruciating disease to an afflicted one mother, is cured as if by a miracle; your own temper is restored to its natural sweetness, and your little sufferer soon and feels more calm and sweet. Sometimes the Medical Discovery becomes a solution of all ailing to your internal and bowels.

NURSING SORE MOUTH,

In the more advanced stages of

it extends to the stomach, causing

DYSPEPSIA.

of which is nothing but ranking on the stomach, due to the intestines and creating a sinking, pain feeling, and an indifference even to the cares of your family.

Your stomach is

RAW AND INFLAMED,

your food distresses you, and you can only take certain kinds, and a variety of that your system does not receive the nourishment it contains as the common food of the canker eats it up, then your stomach or loses its bloom and becomes low or greenish, and your breath is gone. For want of nourishment your system becomes low, and finally, and the dregs of your body become reduced. Then follow a train of diseases which the Medical Discovery is peculiarly

ADAPTED TO CURE:

Palpitation of the heart, pain in the side, weaken at the spine and small of the back, pain at the hip joint when you rise, irregularity of the bowels, and also, that most excruciating of diseases, the

PILES.

How many thousands of poor women are suffering from this disease and pining away a miserable life, and their friend or neighbor does not know the cause. I wish to impress on your mind that good old proverb "An ounce of prevention is better than a pound of cure." Try the

you have both the preventive and the cure, with the great and good quality, that it will never, under any circumstances, do you any injury.

No change of diet ever necessary—eat the best you can get and enough of it.

DIRECTIONS for Use.—Adults, one table spoonful per day.—Children over two years, dessert spoonful.—Children from two to eight years, tea spoonful. As no directions can be applicable to all constitutions take sufficient to operate on the bowels twice a day.

Coroner's Inquest.

AN inquest was held by me, on the 5th day of August, 1858, on the body of an unknown man, who was found by Joseph Sinker, found in the St. Mary's River, near the old toll bridge, in Wayne Township.

The jury, after being duly qualified, found that he was a man of about 45 or 50 years of age, about 5 feet 7 or 8 inches high, auburn hair, dressed in striped cotton drilling pantaloons, shoes and linen cord boots, and black cloth vest, wallet in the pocket, containing four cents—one three cent piece and one cent copper; also some fishing tackle and a pocket knife with one blade, one side of the handle gone; black neck handkerchief, and one old tied pocket handkerchief.

"A Casket of Gems of Wit and Humor."

A THOUSAND AND ONE STORIES,

OF FACT AND FANCY, WIT AND HUMOR, RHYME, REASON, & ROMANCE.

One volume, large octavo, handsomely bound in full muslin gilt, or in two volumes, paper covers, containing 750 pages, and Illustrated with 350 beautiful engravings.

The design of this book is to bring whole libraries of the choicest productions of genius, learning and humor, into a single volume—to furnish a treasure of entertainment for every day and every fireside—for every taste, humor, age, capacity and locality in the country and the world—for the parlor, the study, the kitchen, the work-shop, the counting room and the school room. Philosophy, History and Romance, Wit and Whimsey, Fact and Fancy, will be found together and by contrast, rendering a work of intellectual variety and power, such as the whole English speaking world has not before possessed. Its contributors are the most distinguished writers of the day, and the whole is edited by the author of the Peter Parley series, and the Tales of Peter Parley about America, Europe, the Arts and Sciences, &c. The Life and Sayings of Mrs Partington and the Widow Bedott; the Beauty Papers and the Green Mountain Girls; the Life of Sam Slick, the Clockmaker, and the Sam Slick Humor; the Life and Sayings of Major Jack Downing, the Swan Family Robinson, Mr Tilldon and Sam Patch, with many creations of prose and poetry, from the master spirits of the age—Longfellow, Bryant, Dana, Halleck, Taylor, Dr. Kane, Commodore Perry, &c. It furnishes also a fund of information, in the form of History, Biography, Natural History, and the Bible, which is a subject of whatever interest and importance to a family, Chemistry and Natural History, remarkable Biographies, Interesting Travels, and Wonderful Discoveries in Art and Science.

Peter Parley, the editor of this book, is a world wide household name and authority. His writings having over one hundred thousand words wherever the English language is spoken. THIS IS HIS LAST WORK and we predict for it a popularity equal to, if not superior to, that accorded by any of his former productions.

☞ This work will be SOLD EXCLUSIVELY BY SUBSCRIPTION, at the low price of $2 50.—Agents wanted in all parts of the country to obtain subscribers for it.

Specimen copies will be sent by mail, prepaid, to any address upon receipt of the price. For full particulars address

DR. ROBACK'S

BLOOD PURIFIER AND BLOOD PILLS,

THE GREAT

Scandinavian Vegetable Remedies

To Those who Think and Reason.

The intelligent in this country are always ready to test the merits of a new remedy, discover its virtues, and be satisfied of its worth, before they will recommend it to others. Such is the case with Dr. Roback's Blood Purifier and Blood Pills. Their reputation is now established in every city and town in the Union, pronounced by physicians, and admitted by the people to be the best preparations, and admitted the closest imitation of the Swedish Vegetable, to be the Last Medical Discovery of the age.

THE BLOOD PURIFIER AND PILLS are now universally acknowledged by well informed and candid persons, to be a sure and safe cure for

The SCANDINAVIAN VEGETABLE BLOOD PILLS are one of the three great remedial group series which Physicians in the United States rely on for the permanent cure of all diseases of the bowels, purify the blood, and the invigorate the constitution at once and the same time. To this fact all who try them will endorse. The above certificates, and of every disputing drug, render them harmless, free to the most delicate to handle, or take at all. Observe the name of the proprietor, for it is for one single trade—they are not worthless, in fact, cheaper than any other Pills that take a less number of them to produce a best effect.

Price of the Blood Purifier, Blood Pills, $1 per bottle or box, with Scandinavian Book of Pills, 25 cts per box, or one dollar.

☞ Read Dr. R oback's Special Notices and Certificates, published in a pamphlet form of this paper given away. Dr. Roback's Medical Almanac and Family adviser containing a great amount of interesting and valuable medical information can be had gratis of any of his agents throughout the country.

CARLISLE, Warren Co., O., March 8, 1853

DR C. W. Roback: Dear Sir; For the benefit of suffering humanity, permit me to say that I am indebted your Scandinavian Blood Purifier and Blood Pills a cure sure for Indigestion and Liver Complaint. I have still not found the like to eradicate diseases from the system and restore the great many physicians to heal all to no purpose. I was advised by a friend to try your Blood and Pills and did so. I was living in Cincinnati at the time, and I went to your office and purchased one bottle of the Purifier and one box of Pills to experiment, and found that they did me more permanent benefit than any physician I had employed in person, and feel confident that the cure is permanent. Let others buy and take your valuable pieces, as for me, give me the Blood Purifier and Pills. You are at liberty to use this letter for the benefit of your agents in Cincinnati, as I have taken the agency for Carlisle and vicinity, and am selling them rapidly. I take no other medicine, and have not for the last eighteen months.

Most truly, T. V. DUBOIS.

FORT WAYNE MARBLE WORKS!

A Bachelor's Decision.—The English lords of the bed-chamber, at Westminster, about a month ago, decided, that it was a principle of common law that a man could not be compelled as a witness, should he refuse, to answer any questions which might criminate himself. The case which led to this decision was that of a gentleman who refused to answer, on the ground that such answer might criminate himself, questions put to him on the private business of a lady, his client. The questions were further to the effect whether certain letters were in his possession or power, and whether he had read them. The Court decided that a witness is not compelled to answer any questions put to him by counsel which may criminate himself, unless such questions are relevant to the matter in issue between the parties.

A Bachelor's reply to the Lord Chief Justice of England:

"Brother Martin,
What's matrimony to me?
I've been so blessed in the single state,
I'm afraid of the double knot.
Brother Martin,
What's matrimony to me?"

The Court was officially answered, Deacon Martin declined.

A love affair between one of our most popular railroad conductors and a very fast lady recently ended in a row. The conductor wore a long, roomy, white linen sack coat, with a standing collar, and buttoned up to the chin. The lady won the victory most gloriously by the following brilliant and awful dissolvent charge. "You are a pretty fellow, sir! You are the first conductor I ever seed sew in sack at among a crowd of ore decent wimmen like in the Kentuck! Ain't you 'shamed ov yerself?" We think he was for he left that car quickly and unbuttoned the short tail coat.

A young lady that lives near a railroad crossing appears to have no occupation except perpetually poking her head out of the window. A wag, the other morning, hailed her from the street. "Hallow, Miss!" "What do you want?" said she, after the first flush of indignation at being thus accosted. "The bell ain't rung yet," was the answer. "What do you mean?" asked Miss. "Why," was the reply, "that sign says you're to look out when the bell rings, but you're looking out all the time." The young lady's head disappeared with a jerk, and the window went down with a slam.

The following marriage is announced in the papers: "Thomas Beler Chinn, Esq. of the Close Lichfield, to Ellen Tyrrell, daughter of the late secretary of the navy." A wag, who is always on the alert, wrote the following couplet upon this union:

"Alack, ugh! the sun is sultry yet,
The wind will soon set in;
And Thomas does quite right to get
A Tyrrell for his Chinn."

A Dutchman being called upon for a toast, said: "Here's to the brave fellers who fit, bleed and died at the battle of Bunker Hill, of whom I am one!" Deafening applause.

Take a summary of boys chasing butterflies; put boys called coats on the boys, and turn the butterflies into guineas, and you have a beautiful panorama of the world.

The woman who undertook to scour the woods for all she found that it, owing to the high price of soap. The fact that was heard of her she was skinning the bears.

The old lady who believes every calumny that happens to her friends a fatal, and every one that happens to her friends a judgment, is not yet dead.
